125 EXTREMELY HEAVY RAINFALL EVENTS IN SEPTEMBER, OCTOBER

India recorded 89 extremely heavy rainfall events in September and 36 in October, the India Meteorological Department said

HIGHEST NUMBER OF EXTREME EVENTS IN 5 YRS

This is the highest in five years, the weather department noted. The main causes of such disastrous weather episodes, according to the IMD, include the late withdrawal of the monsoon, a higher than normal number of low-pressure systems during the period and the interaction of active western disturbances with low-pressure systems in October

LATE WITHDRAWAL OF S-W MONSOON

- Nine low-pressure systems, including two cyclones, one deep depression and six lows affected the country during Sept-Oct
- Southwest monsoon withdrew on Oct 25 against usual Oct 15
- India recorded 61 extremely heavy rainfall events in September last year, while October 2020 witnessed 10 such events

Mixed bag for saffron party in K'taka bypolls

Cong's Mane wins Hanagal, BJP's Bhusanur secures Sindagi; Results also raise questions over JDS' political relevance

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's celebrations of completing '100 days' in office this Deepavali could be a little hushed with the solid drubbing the BJP received at the Hanagal Assembly constituency in his home district of Haveri.

As a consolation, the saffron party sailed through in the Sindagi bypoll with party candidate Ramesh Bhusanur winning the seat by over 31,000 votes against his nearest rival Ashok Managuli of Congress.

Though Bommai and his army of ministers fought hard, the party lost the election at the Hanagal Assembly segment, which is sandwiched between the constituencies of four BJP heavyweights -- Bommai's Shiggaon, former chief minister BS Yediyurappa's Shikaripura, Assembly Speaker Vishweshwar Hegde Kageri's Sirsi and minister BC Patil's Hirekerur.

But the signals were quite apparent from the beginning as an internal survey done by the party had shown that the party could face an uphill task in the constituency. Soon after the survey, party national general secretary BL Santhosh had rushed to meet Yediyurappa, urging him to join the campaigning. P4

Climate change? Himachal warms up to Congress

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

GOING strictly by the numbers, it was a tie. Of the 32 seats up for grabs in the by-elections, 29 Assembly and three Lok Sabha seats, the results of which were declared on Tuesday, the Bharatiya Janata Party and its allies won 16 and the remaining were bagged by the opposition parties led by the Congress and the Trinamool Congress.

But the bragging rights can be said to have been won by the opposition for at least three reasons. One, in BJP-ruled Himachal Pradesh, which will see Assembly polls next year, the Congress bucked the trend of ruling parties enjoying an advantage in bypolls, bagging all the four seats.

Second, the Trinamool's steam roller victory in West Bengal over the BJP, which lost its deposit in three of the four seats, further denuded the saffron party. Third, was the BJP's setback in Rajasthan, where its candidates slipped to third and fourth positions in the two seats where by-elections were held.

Hurt by your conduct, Capt tells Sonia, quits

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

FORMER Punjab chief minister Capt Amarinder Singh on Tuesday formally snapped ties with the Congress and announced his new outfit, the Punjab Lok Congress.

He wrote to Congress president Sonia Gandhi saying he was deeply hurt by her conduct as also that of her children Rahul and Priyanka for propping up Navjot Singh Sidhu as the president of the state unit of the Congress. "I actually felt deeply hurt by your conduct and that of your children... I hereby tender my resignation from the Indian National Congress in the interest of my state and my country," his letter read.

Anil Deshmukh

A special holiday court on Tuesday remanded ex-Maharashtra home minister Anil Deshmukh to the Enforcement Directorate's custody till November 6, hours after his arrest following 13 hours of questioning in connection with a money laundering case.

Additional sessions judge P B Jadhav, who presided over the special holiday court in Mumbai, passed the remand order after hearing the arguments of Additional Solicitor General Anil Singh appearing for the central agency and senior advocate Vikram Chaudhari, Deshmukh's counsel.

The ED sought 14-day custody of the NCP leader but the court granted only five days. Deshmukh's counsel argued that his client is a senior citizen with a dislocated shoulder that needs constant care and support. Besides, Deshmukh is also suffering from several ailments and hence, he should not be arrested as long as he is cooperating with investigations, Chaudhari argued. The ED said it has fresh evidence and needs custodial interrogation of Deshmukh for further probe. P12

Half the dists in state add zero Covid cases

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

AMID fears of the new SARS-CoV-2 Delta sub-lineage triggering another Covid surge, Karnataka on Tuesday saw a half of all the districts reporting zero Covid-19 cases.

Fifteen of the 30 districts in Karnataka had no Covid cases. This includes the 31st district Vijayanagara which, in the health bulletin, is included under Ballari and it is among the 15 to record zero cases.

While Bengaluru alone added 139 cases on Tuesday, the rest 100 were reported in 14 other districts, most of them in single digits.

The high concentration of infections in Bengaluru Urban is indicated by the fact that of the total 8,370 active cases across the state, 6,424 are from the state capital. P6

Bitcoins not found yet in Sriki scam

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

NOTORIOUS hacker Srikrishna Ramesh alias Sriki, whose crime has sparked a raging political controversy in the State, "does not have any bank account in India or overseas nor have the law enforcement agencies, which are investigating him found any bitcoins with him," informed sources told TNIE.

The Central Crime Branch (CCB) of City police, which had arrested him in November last year on drug charges, has taken the help of technical and digital experts from the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) and Department of e-governance to track the bitcoins, but "no bitcoins have been found in his possession so far. This could also be because the bitcoin exchanges that were questioned/probed in the case didn't maintain Know Your Customer (KYC) norms," the source said. P9

BBMP to acquire land for ramps, claims Railways changed alignment thrice

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

IT'S been almost a year since the Railway Board sanctioned the Road Over Bridge (ROB) at the level crossing near Karmelaram Railway Station, following a demand by residents for many years. However, there has been no progress, as thousands struggle daily to commute from Gunjur, Panathur and Whitefield via Karmelaram Main Road towards Sarjapur Road and Outer Ring Road, and in the reverse direction.

The Rs 48.16-crore ROB (at LC gate no. 132) for which construction cost is to be borne equally between the Railways and BBMP, is stuck between the two agencies. Each department will bear Rs 15.16 crore, while the balance sum that would be handed over as compensation for land acquisition will be completely borne by the BBMP, a Palike official said.

A top railway official told TNIE that BBMP has not completed land acquisition, which was delaying the project. BBMP Executive Engineer Jaishankar Reddy refused to buy this argument. "BBMP needs to acquire 6,000 sqm for constructing ramps for the ROB. It will be ready within six months. With the land presently available with Railways, it could have gone ahead with constructing the ROB. Our survey is com plete and we will issue a notification. If Railways begins construction even now, it will be a year before the land being acquired is needed," he said.

Asked about reasons for the delay in acquiring land, he charged the Railways of changing the initial alignment thrice, forcing BBMP to go in for repeat surveys.

Another senior railway official said that tenders for the ROB will be called shortly by South Western Railway. "The Railway Board wanted us to begin work only after land was fully acquired," he claimed.

MP PC Mohan, who gave Rs 16 lakh from his MPLAD funds for the ROB in November 2018, said, "There seems to be some land acquisition issue. I will hold a review meet between the BBMP and Railways, and sort it out."

RESIDENTS SPEAK

Deepankar Patnaik of 'Carmelaram Unites' has been carrying on a relentless campaign on Twitter for the ROB, and has put out 241 reminder tweets tagging top officials, ministers and even PM Modi. Arpit Nayak, an IT professional in Chikka Bellandur, said he needs to wait for 25 to 45 minutes at the gate to go across to a hospital or medical store. Amit Kumar, a Gunjur resident, said he and many others are completely dependent on the 'TrainSpotters' group on Telegram to step outside his house.

Soon, you can buy chicory-free coffee online

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

COFFEE lovers are in for a treat after the Coffee Board announced on Tuesday that chicory-free, pure coffee will soon be available for purchase online. As per the Board, they are keen to launch the sale of Geographical Indication (GI) tagged coffee by the end of the year, and are in talks with various online merchant platforms for the same.

Board officials are setting up units in Bengaluru for product packaging, after which, it will be sent to domestic and international buyers. Hiring delivery personnel and packaging staff is in the works, to enable door-to-door supply to customers, and commercial units.

"There is the Board's land in Nelamangala, which could be utilised as the packaging unit. The Board will sell all the types of GI tagged coffee in a phased manner. The sales will be in 250 grams, 500 grams and one kilogram packing. No instant coffee will be sold by the Board," remarked K G Jagadeesha, CEO and Secretary Coffee Board.

A study on the impact of chicory on health, in collaboration with the Central Food Technological Research Institute (CFTRI), the laboratory under the aegis of Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, will be undertaken to increase awareness.

The decision to sell the coffee online has been well calculated by the Board, since they want to revive coffee sales in the domestic and international market. They also identified rising demand from customers on delivery of chicory-free coffee. The high-quality coffee beans will be taken directly from farmers and a portion of the sales will be given to them.

BROKEN GIRDER DISPATCHED TO METRO YARD

The 260-tonne launching girder, which slipped at BTM Layout during Metro construction works on October 24, has been brought down recently with the help of four cranes. It has been completely dismantled and sent to the Metro yard at Bannerghatta, a top Metro official said. The incident had brought an abrupt stop to the construction work on the RV Road-Bommasandra Line (Reach 5) of Metro Phase-II. The roads were temporarily closed, has been reopened.

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

SOME residents of an apartment complex, headed by a woman, have been fighting for the past four years against the alleged mismanagement of sewage which is being dumped into local water bodies around the building in Bommanahalli.

Prema Mistry, who stays at Prestige Tranquility, has made several appeals, but they have fallen on deaf ears of the government and civic bodies. She is now planning to approach the National Green Tribunal as the Prestige Tranquility Apartment Owners Association (PTAOA) has slapped a defamation case against her. She has documented the mismanagement and filed multiple complaints with the authorities, besides posting pictures and videos of the dumping on Twitter.

Prema's efforts led the regional office of Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change (MoEFCC) to order an investigation in March and found that sewage treatment plants at the building complex were not certified by independent experts. It also found multiple violations pertaining to hygiene at STPs, untrained personnel manning them, sumps designated for rainwater being contaminated with sewage and pumped into Bommanahalli Lake and sewage water pumped into a stormwater drain.

The Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB), in its report, had expressed doubts over the quality of treated water and the efficiency of STPs. But nothing was done to rectify the situation.

The investigating team concluded in March that the issues needed rectification, and a compliance report be submitted between 30 and 60 days. Dr Dola Bhattacharjee, Research Officer, Regional Office, MoEF&CC, who was part of the investigating team, said, "Although we sent a reminder to the association (PTAOA), no report has been filed yet."

Kiran Kumar, PTAOA president, said, "We are in a containment zone thanks to Covid. We haven't been able to get vendors from outside to do any repairs and we've let the relevant authorities know. However, we would have no reason to dump sewage. The allegations of dumping are false. Sewage is disposed of through an approved vendor from BWSSB."

Prestige Property Management and Services (PPM&S), which provides maintenance for Prestige Group properties, has washed its hands of citing legalities.

Prema said, "A lot of people aren't aware of violations. If the pollution control board doesn't act, I will escalate it to NGT."

K-SET RESULTS

4,779 eligible for assistant prof posts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mysuru

THE century-old University of Mysore (UoM), the nodal agency to conduct Karnataka State Eligibility Test (K-SET), on Tuesday revealed that over 4,779 candidates have become eligible for the post of assistant professors in Karnataka.

Revealing this during a press meet here on Tuesday, G Hemantha Kumar, Vice-chancellor of UoM, said that the final cut-off marks and results have been decided after a round of meeting with the moderation and screening committee and as per the guidelines of the University Grants Commission (UGC)

The exam was held for 41 subjects at 11 nodal centres on July 25 after much delay.

Over 83,907 students had registered for the exam, but only 69,857 had appeared for it. Of which, 6.84%, that is 4,779, have become eligible for the post of assistant professors in the state.

A total of 2,470 male candidates and 2,309 female candidates were found eligible in the examination of which Mysuru centre topped the chart with 1,059 candidates eligible in the exams, followed by Bengaluru centre where 985 candidates were found eligible.

Next K-SET in Feb or March

Prof H Rajeshekhar, coordinator of K-SET said that the next K-SET will be conducted either in February or March.

03rd November : The current Mars-Jupiter pattern may be fading, but it remains a pretty powerful indication of potential change. It's a sign that anything is possible - well, almost anything. Actually, many of the most significant events that happen around now will be taking place behind the scenes and may not become public for many years.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The Moon introduces a joyful and optimistic note to the day's proceedings, but the angle between the Sun and Neptune is still pushing you towards unrealistic hopes and expectations. It may be best to keep your more ambitious plans under wraps for now, at least until you've sounded out the opposition.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
Friends and relations do love an argument from time to time. The problem is that nobody has got their facts straight, perhaps not even you! However, you can exert a restraining influence on intemperate colleagues, presenting them with the facts whether they like them or not.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
The Moon offers a series of opportunities, but you don't have to take them! In other words, promises may not be translated into action. You should probably make more effort to seize the initiative and compensate for other people's unwillingness to get to grips with practical tasks.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
You are responsible for your own success. Every current opportunity stems from events which took place six months ago. Those of you with long memories will realise that current stress levels date back even further. It's time to smile and get on with positive plans.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Your purpose is to maintain the peace. Arguments and disputes can be avoided. Quite frankly, this is one of those times when people who have no self-control create havoc but individuals with a mission to fulfil will make great strides. Hopefully, that includes you.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Although the Sun is advising you to clinch deals, build your future prosperity and feather your own nest, Mercury is about to focus your attention on higher matters, making you wonder whether it is right to be so self-interested. Perhaps you should aid other people before helping yourself.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The choice is yours but, if you know what's good for you, you'll continue to stick to principles over cash and career matters. Compromise and flexibility are all very well, but you don't want to be pushed completely off course. Other people need to know that you really do mean business.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Some offers have seemed irresistible, but perhaps you were right to hold out for better terms. In a sense, it's your attitude that counts more than the outcome. This is because what this current period is all about is personal growth and self-understanding rather than material benefit.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Loved ones or close companions may be unreasonable, but there are ways to escape from emotional tension. What you can do, is make a conscious decision to treat all differences of opinion in a mature, calm and rational manner - and never lose your cool.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Mercury, the planet of the mind and all forms of communication, is gradually altering its position for the better. All those differences of opinion at home should become less important, and you'll soon find it easier to put your ideas across in other related areas.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Your natural intuitive abilities are in excellent working order but, to feel their benefit, you need to banish all that mental clutter and allow your mind to relax. Only then will important hunches and long-term dreams succeed in attracting your attention.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
It's a moment to watch, wait and listen. The point is that the correct behaviour depends on exact timing, and you will instinctively know when it is right to spring into action. Meanwhile, family responsibilities and domestic duties keep you busy.

After changing the category of important roads in the state, 69 roads of 5,784 Km. length have been identified as new State Highways.

For ease of movement, these roads are to be converted into a minimum of two-lane highway.

Rs 426 crore have been sanctioned to upgrade 16 sanctioned state highways.

Rs. 277 crore is to be sanctioned for six more highways. The process is underway.

The Formula for Fast Growth of UP

The road to development is not an easy one. A time-bound plan and strategy is needed for the same. In Uttar Pradesh the Yogi government is therefore using this formula to ensure that the remotest village in the state gets the benefits of development. Due to this strategy the state is now the leading in the country in implementation of many programmes initiated by the central government. The building of expressways in the state is a major contributor to development as it improves connectivity and promotes tourism, transport, trade, commerce and shipment of goods. In the last 4.5 years under the Yogi Government, Uttar Pradesh has emerged as a state with maximum number of expressways in the country.

International level expressways are being constructed in all four corners of the state to improve connectivity, boost development and open up new avenues for industrialization and employment generation for the people of the state.

The Purvanchal Expressway linking remotest corners of eastern Uttar Pradesh is nearing completion and it will be formally open for traffic as soon as the Prime Minister Narendra Modi gets time to inaugurate it.

BUILDING INFRASTRUCTURE

The ways to progress

In order to put UP on the path of economic progress, the Yogi Adityanath government assigned the highest priority to the development of requisite infrastructure. It focused on transportation and connectivity as well as creating and developing land banks for industrial purposes. The state today has some of the best infrastructure and new expressways, airports and metro rail systems are nearing completion to give it advanced connectivity options.

- Nine airports are now operational in UP including three international airports
- Two international airports, Noida International airport at Jewar and another international airport at Ayodhya are under construction. Work is in progress for 13 more airports and 7 airstrips
- Approach roads for 124 long bridges and 54 rail over bridges completed. Construction of 355 smaller bridges in progress
- Work underway on 82 roads of 929 km length connecting neighbouring states
- Metro rail operational in Noida, Greater Noida, Lucknow and Ghaziabad
- Meerut-Ghaziabad-New Delhi Rapid rail connectivity as well as Metro rail development underway in Meerut, Kanpur, Agra, Gorakhpur, Varanasi, Prayagraj and Jhansi

Finishing touches being given to the 341 Km-long Purvanchal Expressway

Work on 297 km-long Bundelkhand Expressway in full swing

Land acquisition for the 594 km-long Ganga Expressway almost complete

Work underway on the 91 km-long Gorakhpur Link Expressway

Purvanchal Expressway

The estimated cost of this highway is Rs. 23349.37 crore and the project is nearing completion. This is 341 km long and runs from Ghazipur to Lucknow via Azamgarh, Ambedkarnagar, Ayodhya, Sultanpur, Amethi and Barabanki. A 3.2 kilometre long emergency runway for Indian Air Force planes has also been laid on this expressway in Sultanpur district.

Gorakhpur Link Expressway

The estimated cost of this project is Rs 5876.68 crore. The project is still to be completed but 27.94 percent has been completed. This expressway is to be 91 km long and is a four-lane restricted entry expressway. It connects the important business centres and export centres near Gorakhpur to the Purvanchal Expressway and the state capital. The expressway will benefit the areas near Gorakhpur's Jaitpur village and Sant Kabir Nagar, Azamgarh and Ambedkarnagar districts.

Bundelkhand Expressway

The other expressway project nearing completion is the Bundelkhand Expressway project. Almost 75% work on this 296-kilometres long four-lane (expandable to six lanes) project has been completed. Originating at Bharatkoop in Chitrakoot district and passing through Banda, Hamirpur, Jalaun and Auraiya districts, it joins the Agra-Lucknow experessway near Auriya-Etawah border. Once operational, it will prompt Industries to come to the area.

Ganga Expressway

The estimated cost of this project is Rs 37,350 crores. This proposed expressway is supposed to be 594 km long. This Expressway will run through Meerut, Hapur, Bulandshahr, Amroha, Sambhal, Badaun, Shahjehanpur, Hardoi, Unnao, Rae Bareli, Pratapgarh and Prayagraj. It will also link the important manufacturing and trade centres near these districts. The process for acquiring the land for the project is on and 98 percent of the land has been taken over already and bidding is on for the rest of the land required. An emergency landing strip for Indian Air Force jets is being proposed in the Shahjahanpur stretch of the expressway.

Gaddha Mukt Abhiyan - An ambitious drive improves roads across the state

Roads reflect the state of governance in a state and the state of economy, as well. If the goods are in good condition, then transportation of people and goods is easier better and faster and keeping the welfare of the state in mind the Yogi Government has embarked upon the ambitious venture to improve connectivity in the state through its programme to repair, widen and renovate roads all over the state of Uttar Pradesh. Not only roads but over bridges and culverts and even rail road connectivity have been improved in the last four and a half years.

A total of 349274 km long roads have been repaired and renovated in the state of Uttar Pradesh. The UP PWD has repaired 85160 km of road out of the total length of 235000 km of road under the PWD in the entire state. This has been done in the stipulated time period set by the government.

A total of 36859 km of road has been rebuilt anew in the state under orders from the government.

In the financial year 2018-19 an estimated 44376 km of roads had been made free of pot holes and 21858 km of roads were built anew. In the year 2019-20 a total of 52121 km of road length was made pot hole free by the department. In the year 2019-20 also 24618 km of road was renovated. In the following year 2020-21 a total of 55481 km of road out of 56799 km length of road has been made pot hole free in the state. In the year 2020-21 also an estimated 20382 km of roads were renovated and rebuilt in the state.

In the year 2021-22 out of a selected spot of 47100 km of road a total of 7000 km of roads was made pot hole free and repairs were carried out on them.

New Technology Saved Rs 1200 Crore

To make the state a leader in the use of new environment friendly techniques the State PWD used these new technologies to the full. In 2017 a major conference was organized by the department in Lucknow on how to use this latest environment friendly technology.

Several scientists from leading premier organisations like IIT Kanpur, Delhi and Kharagpur and Mumbai and Roorkee and Varanasi and Central Roads Organisation New Delhi took part. Apart from these experts from Germany, Netherlands and Britain also took part.

They shared their views and experience in these new technologies for all and sundry and for the department engineers as well. By implementing these technologies it became clear to all that it would be possible to reduce costs of construction and material use by 20 to 25 per cent and at the same time these practices would be more eco-friendly.

By using these new techniques and technology the UP PWD saved a sum of Rs 1200 crores. At the same time they used carbon emissions which contribute to green house gases and promote global warming and climate change by 15.4 lakh tonnes.

Boost to Tourism with Air Connectivity

Air connectivity too plays a major role in ensuring economic development of a state. People get better communication links and connectivity for faster and more convenient transport and it boosts development in myriad ways. Before the Yogi Adityanath government came into power in 2017, Uttar Pradesh was poor in air connectivity as compared to some other states in India and of course with the countries in Europe which are even smaller in area and population than Uttar Pradesh.

There are several initiatives that have been taken by the Yogi Adityanath government in this regard in the last 4.5 years and development projects and air port projects that hanged fire for as long as 20 years have been revived and reconceptualized by this government.

New airports and airstrips

The chief minister's initiatives towards developing better air connectivity in all corners of the state has led to start of working on more than 20 airports and airstrips. With the inauguration of Kushinagar international airport, the state now has 09 operational airports. Three of these nine are international airports. The number of domestic flights from all airports in the state have also increased. On the first day of November, three new flights to Bangalore. Hyderabad and Mumbai were added to Kanpur airport.

Meanwhile work has begun on seven new domestic airports. There are 13 new airports and seven air strips which are under construction.

The Kushinagar International airport was recently inaugurated by the Prime Minister Narendra Modi himself. From November 26, the Spice Jet company will begin a direct flight from Delhi to Kushinagar. With this airport commencing flights it will link up Kushinagar with Sri Lanka, Thailand, Cambodia, Japan, Korea, Laos and Singapore as a religious destination and pilgrimage centre on the international Buddhist circuit.

The airport will not only be a medium for air connectivity and high profile passengers but will benefit farmers, labourers, migrant workers, shop keepers and dairy farmers. It will promote both trade and commerce in the region which was in a remote corner of the state on the Nepal border and will bring in new prosperity by creating a new climate for business.

Expanding air services

To expand air services in the state four airports are being worked upon on a priority basis. These are Ayodhya, Sonbhadra, Jewar on which work is underway and one airport in Kushinagar has been inaugurated by the prime minister recently.

With these airports being complete the state of Uttar Pradesh will top the charts for the number of airports a state has in the entire country.

It may be recalled that in the past 70 years, state governments could develop only two international airports in the state, but in the last 4.5 years Yogi government has increased this number to five. International airports are under construction at Jewar near Noida and Ayodhya.

Tourism boom in UP

The new airports in the state are expected to boost tourism beside benefiting the common people and industries. The Airport will also cater to the people of Nepal, Eastern UP and Bihar.

Apart from this, there is work underway in Ayodhya, Aligarh, Azamgarh, Shravasti, Moradabad and Chitrakoot. The airports in Uttar Pradesh today provide direct air service to 75 important cities in the country.

In the coming two to three years 20 more airports are likely to come up in the state. At present there are 63 flights operating in UP. Work is in progress for 11 new airports. Noida and Ayodhya are witnessing speedy construction activity. UP will have the maximum air services in the entire country very soon. Barielly Airport is also commencing flights. The Hindon airbase has seen a civil enclave set up. This terminal bhavan has a capacity of 300 passengers per hour. A few other airports may also be functional in very short period.

BJP's rural-focused campaign delivers the goods in Sindagi

MAHESH M GOUDAR @Vijayapura

INTENSE campaigning by cabinet ministers in rural parts of the Sindagi Assembly segment yielded overwhelming results for Bharatiya Janata Party with party candidate Ramesh Bhusanur winning by a whopping margin of 31,088 votes.

Bhusanur secured 93,865 votes, Ashok Managuli of Congress 62,680 votes and Naziya Shakeel Ahmed Angadi of JDS lost the deposit as she got only 4,353 votes.

The winner, Bhusanur, said, "I never expected that the people would give me a lead of over 30,000 votes. At least 4,000 people from the Muslim community have voted for me."

From the beginning, BJP focused more on rural areas than urban parts. The party had formed seven teams, with each being given charge of one zilla panchayat. Each team was headed by either a cabinet minister or a senior party leader.

The party had asked cabinet minister to campaign in the segment to take care of caste calculations. Minister Govind Karjol and six-time Parliamentarian Ramesh Jigajinagi were given the responsibility of Dalit community, MLA Laxman Savadi was in to attract Lingayat Ganiga votes, Minister CC Patil and MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal to consolidate Lingayat-Panchamasali votes, Ministers Byrati Basavaraj and MTB Nagaraj to seek Kuruba votes and Ministers V Somanna and Shashikala Jolle to capture other Lingayats and women votes.

Gopal Naik, a political analyst, said, "BJP banked on Ganiga, Talwar, SC/ST and other traditional votes. They have succeeded in caste mathematics. Also, BJP engineered the campaign better at the grassroots level than Congress and JDS."

Though Congress candidate Managuli did not win the seat despite securing over 60,000, it is quite remarkable, considering that the party had not managed more than 25,000 votes in the last four Assembly polls.

Gopal Naik said, "In the first place, opting for Ashok Managuli, who migrated from JDS, did not go well within the party. This was one of the major factors that led to Congress's defeat."

He said, "Talwars were unhappy and the party also failed to get its traditional votes, mainly from minority communities. However, it is a good sign that Ashok secured over 60,000 votes."

'APPU' FACTOR IN BJP LOSS

Hubballi: Did the demise of Sandalwood actor Puneeth Rajkumar play a part in BJP's loss in Hanagal Assembly seat? It seems to be so according to BJP workers. The result would have been different if the youths considered as the vote bank of the saffron party in some areas of the segment, had come out to vote on October 30. But, following the death of Puneeth on October 29, many people stayed glued to television and did not go to vote. Booth level members of BJP say despite taking vehicles to villagers to take people to polling booths, many declined. "We are in no mood for anything after the death of our favourite actor," was their refrain, recalled a party worker.

Mane's local connect, unity factor played big role in Congress win

PRAMODKUMAR VAIDYA @Hubballi

THE closely-fought Hanagal bypoll result appears to be influenced by a few factors: the charisma of party leaders, unity in the party, and the candidate's local connect. The convincing victory of Congress candidate Srinivas Mane was rooted in the united campaign by KPCC President D K Shivakumar and Opposition leader Siddaramaiah, who wanted to ensure the party grabbed this seat. They were undeterred by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and his battery of ministers who had camped in Hanagal and kept up a sustained campaign.

The Congress was confident of a win, chiefly because Mane had prepared the ground in Hanagal, despite losing to C M Udasi in 2018. Though he hails from Hubballi, Mane stayed put for three years and nurtured the constituency. As a Legislative Council member from local bodies of Haveri, other than Dharwad and Gadag, he took up development works here. However, it was his concern for the people during the first and second Covid-19 waves that created goodwill, and his deeds were also highlighted by the party. Though the BJP tried to counter this by projecting the government's relief measures and free vaccination, the saffron party failed to convince the voters.

The BJP's choice of candidate was also a negating factor -- picking Shivaraj Sajjanar over a member of the Udasi family set off voices of dissent among local leaders. Sajjanar is from Haveri, and considered an outsider. Moreover, he was allegedly responsible for the poor financial condition of Sangur Sugar Mill, and Siddaramaiah hit Sajjanar where it hurt most.

On the unity front, this time the shoe was on the other foot. The Congress camp worked like a unit, but though the BJP brought on its star campaigners, including State and Central ministers, there was no cohesiveness. To top it, B S Yediyurappa's speech as well as body language were uninspiring, and he looked to be losing his charm. As one BJP leader put it, traditionally, Hanagal was not a BJP seat, but was won on Udasi's own charisma.

While the BJP assumed the JDS fielding a Muslim candidate would favour the party, the poll outcome proved that the minority votes went to the Congress en bloc.

WAKE-UP CALL FOR BJP: BSY, LOCAL RAPPORT TIP SCALES

RAMU PATIL @Bengaluru

THE bypoll result may not be an indicator for future elections, but is certainly a wake-up call for the BJP ahead of a series of elections, leading up to the 2023 assembly elections. The BJP lost in Hanagal, Basavaraj Bommai's home district, despite the CM leading from the front and camping in the constituency for over a week. It was the first major election fought after he took over as CM, and was crucial to assert his authority, especially as the party high command has declared that the 2023 elections would be fought under his leadership. The resounding victory in Sindagi came as a saving grace.

Sources in the party told TNIE that in the next few days, party leaders will sit together to analyse the results, its implications on upcoming elections, and also take a relook at its election strategies.

While things worked as planned in Sindagi, the constituency that was won by JDS in 2018, delay in finalising the candidate's name, issues related to allocation of the ticket, local leaders' disconnect with voters and the Congress candidate's rapport with people are said to be among the reasons for BJP's defeat in Hanagal, despite the best efforts by the CM. "From the beginning, we had information about Congress having an edge and tried to overcome it, but time was short," said sources in the party.

Some leaders also said the results showed that former CM BS Yediyurappa's active involvement in elections is inevitable to take on a resurgent Congress that is showing signs of putting up a good fight. Although the former CM campaigned in both the constituencies for a few days, it was mostly Bommai's show in Hanagal, and a team of ministers managed the election in Sindagi.

BJP State General Secretary and MLC N Ravi Kumar, however, said it is not a setback for the CM or the party, as they won Sindagi with a big margin. "This is like an alarm bell for us. We will analyse the reasons and take appropriate measures," he said.

CONG HOPES TO SCRIPT COMEBACK IN 2023

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

THE win in Hanagal comes as a ray of hope for the Congress, which has lost 17 of the 21 constituencies where bypolls were held, since the BJP came to power in 2019. Though the party lost Sindagi, its vote base has increased three-fold, compared to the 2018 results.

Of 21 byelections in the past two years, the Congress has won only four -- Shivajinagar, Hunsur, Maski and now Hanagal in Haveri, the home district of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai.

Political pundits say the show of unity among KPCC President DK Shivakumar and Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah worked in favour of the Congress in Hanagal, with the leaders working together during the Assembly session, and protests against fuel prices and essential commodities. "That helped send a strong message to voters and instil confidence among party workers," said a Congress leader. Earlier, the lack of unity and cold war between Shivakumar and Siddaramaiah were perceptible even to the masses.

The party had lost both Hanagal and Sindagi in 2018, so pulling off a win has given it a big boost. In Hanagal, while the BJP got almost the same number of votes as in 2018, the Congress got 87,300 votes, as against 74,015 votes in 2018.

In Sindagi, it managed to get JDS leaders and workers into the party and improve its performance. In 2018, the party candidate had secured 22,818 votes -- 14.22 per cent of the vote share -- which shot up to to 62,680 votes, or 38.18 per cent of the vote share.

Former CM Siddaramaiah said the results are a sign of decline of the BJP in Karnataka, and the Congress will be back in power in 2023.

BIG JOLT FOR JDS AHEAD OF ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @Belagavi

THE pathetic show by the JDS in the bypolls to Hangal and Sindagi constituencies, despite party top leaders — H D Deve Gowda, H D Kumaraswamy and Prajwal Revanna — camping in Sindagi constituency during campaigning, has come as a massive setback to the party leadership ahead of the next Assembly elections scheduled for 2023.

The JDS, which had won the Sindagi seat in the previous election, could neither retain the seat nor bag a sizable number of the traditional Congress votes to play some role in the defeat of the latter.

Although Sindagi MLA M C Managuli, whose death necessitated the bypoll, hailed from the JDS, the results brought to fore the fact that Managuli had been able to win the seat last time based on his popularity and image in the constituency and not as a leader of the party.

After the bypoll results came out, JDS leader H D Kumaraswamy said he never expected this and that the party had to field candidates as per the demands of its workers.

Much against predictions of political pundits that the JDS may bag a good share of the traditional Congress votes in both Sindagi and Hanagal to help the BJP, the party candidates were no match for their opponents. Given the poor show, party leaders in Sindagi and Hanagal feel that the JDS will not field its candidates in the next Assembly polls.

I AM STILL ALIVE, WILL TOUR N K'TAKA IN 2023: GOWDA

Bengaluru: Despite the party candidates losing their deposits in Sindagi and Hanagal, party supremo H D Deve Gowda and former chief minister H D Kumaraswamy claimed they were not disheartened by the results. "I am still alive. For the 2023 polls, I will travel more to North Karnataka to organise the party. Kumaraswamy will oversee the South," Gowda told reporters in New Delhi.

K'taka will share water with TN: Bommai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday reiterated that Karnataka is firm on implementing the Mekedatu balancing reservoir project and assured Tamil Nadu that it will share surplus water during distress years.

"Karnataka has taken up the project to meet the drinking water needs. We will take all measures to implement the project to see that people are benefitted without violating the Tribunal's final award. We will share surplus water from Mekedatu between riparian states during distress years," he said after offering Bagina to the Krishnaraja Sagar Reservoir here.

He said that Tamil Nadu has as usual objected to Mekedatu like any other projects mooted in the Cauvery basin by Karnataka, and added that they have spoken to senior counsels in New Delhi to wage a legal battle and maintain the state stand before the Cauvery River Water Tribunal and Central Water Commission.

"Engineers had not dared to replace the 75-year-old crest gates that were damaged resulting in wastage of 300 cusecs water per day. It was I who initiated the project to replace the gates," he said.

Bommai directed the officials to expedite the work on replacing 130 cast-iron gates with steel ones at all levels and complete the task before 2022.

Will take defeat seriously: CM

THE chief minister too was right at the battlefront, staying put in the constituency for over a week to ensure a victory. But it was not to be.

Congress candidate Srinivas Mane won by a margin of 7,373 votes against Shivaraj Sajjanar of BJP.

While Mane secured 87,490 votes, Sajjanar got 80,117 votes. Mane coming from a numerically insignificant community and yet getting over 87,000 votes only added insult to the saffron party's injury. Bommai, speaking in Mysuru on Tuesday, said, "The Hangal defeat will be taken seriously and we will work hard to transform this defeat into a victory."

In Sindagi, Ramesh Bhusanur of BJP secured his third victory in Assembly polls by garnering 93,865 votes and winning by a comfortable margin of 31,185 votes against Ashok Managuli, who polled 62,680 votes. Ashok is the son of late MLA MC Managuli of JDS, who passed away necessitating the bypoll. Managuli and the Congress leadership could not match the BJP's firepower in spite of playing the sympathy card. The Congress, however, defended its performance, pointing out that the party has increased its tally from just 22,000 to over 62,000.

The bypolls also put a big question mark on the political relevance of JDS, whose candidates lost miserably in both the polls. Niyaz Shaikh in Hanagal polled just 927 votes, although he campaigned for close to two-and-a-half months. In Sindagi, Naziya Angadi managed 4,353 votes, a big drop from 70,865 votes in 2018.

These two could be the last big bypolls before the 2023 Assembly elections in Karnataka which are 16 months away.

'Disclose names of politicians in Bitcoin scam'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CONGRESS leader Siddaramiah has demanded that Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai make public the names of politicians allegedly involved in the Bitcoin scam, irrespective of which party they belong to. "Let it be Congress or BJP, it does not matter. People should know the truth," the Leader of Opposition in the Assembly said. Krishna, accused in the case, was arrested sometime back and police had filed the chargesheet, he said and wondered at the delay in announcing the names of those involved. "I have information about politicians being involved in this scam. If there is no case, why did the CM hand it over the case to ED?" he asked.

The state of Uttar Pradesh has shed its image of the economic laggard in the need of stimulation. It is now recognized as the state where infrastructure and business opportunities are increasing day by day. It is rapidly transforming into a new destination for trade and commerce. Improvement in the law and order in the state has dispelled its poor image of the past.

For the past four and a half years, the state of Uttar Pradesh has been experiencing a strong current of change created by careful planning with a clear vision, relentless hardwork and firm determination to achieve goals under the leadership of Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath. His emphasis on infrastructure, creation of an environment needed for economic growth, attracting investments, promoting the existing industries and the agriculture sectors have ensured a steady growth in the GDP of the most populous state of India.

Having set eyes on transforming the state in all aspects leading to better life, the UP government in February 2018 organized an Investors' Summit. That was a grand success fetching investment proposals worth more than ₹ 4.68 lakh crore in different sectors. In the past nearly three years, almost 43% of all proposals, involving investments of ₹ 1.84 trillion have got into different phases of implementation. In fact, Uttar Pradesh is now a state where world-leading companies are willing to invest as they trust the environment in the state.

The efforts directed towards economic growth have parallelly created new employment opportunities and an unprecedented number of people have gained employment during the period. According to a Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy (CMIE) report, the unemployment rate in the state has now dropped to 4.1 per cent against 17.5 per cent in 2017. Also, ensuring delivery of benefits of various schemes to the maximum number of people has resulted in UP's emergence as the leading state in implementation of most of the government of India welfare schemes.

The maximum number of employment opportunities came from the MSME sector in which the state is a leader in the country. Even after Independence the state of Uttar Pradesh was well known for its MSME units and its small industrial houses. Due to certain reasons this industry faced neglect during previous regimes till a determined effort was undertaken four and a half years ago by the Yogi government to revive the industrial backbone of Uttar Pradesh and create jobs for the lakhs of unemployed youth in the state.

This MSME sector has got unprecedented impetus in the past 4.5 years. According to a rough estimate, there are more than 11 million MSME units in the state. In the last four years, loans worth Rs 2.16 lakh crore were given to 82 lakh MSME units. This also resulted in more than 2 crore people getting direct and indirect employment opportunities.

The Covid-19 pandemic had only a partial impact on the sector as during the first wave of 48 industries related to essential commodities and export units continued to operate. During the second wave, industries and businesses operated as usual. However, the state government extended financial support by the way of loans to mitigate the problems of units hit by the pandemic conditions. This support has helped the sector emerge victorious against severe challenges. Further efforts to strengthen this sector are continuing.

New MSME Act

A new MSME Act was needed to remove all obstructions to the growth of industry in the state and allow the new units being set up to flourish. In order to promote the MSME sector, the state government introduced a new MSME Act, 2020 under which no-objection certificates (NOCs) are being given in 72 hours and exemption from various types of licenses has been given for around 1000 days.

As the sector that largely comprises micro units, the state government embarked on the idea of developing MSME parks with common facilities for the units. Two such parks under construction in Noida gained momentum with 812 investors buying lands at the proposed sites in Sector 29 and Sector 32. These Parks will have facilities like business and shopping centres, incubation centres, hotels and restaurants, hostels, office blocks, health and fire stations along with factories and factory sheds. A certification lab will also be set up at the park itself. The parks will also feature storehouses, container and truck terminals, railway siding infrastructure and fuel stations.

Developing new Industrial Parks

Following initial success of MSME parks in NOIDA, the government decided to develop MSME parks in Agra, Kanpur, Moradabad, Varanasi, Azamgarh and Gorakhpur, too.

MSME parks range in size from 20 to 100 acres. Fifty percent of the total area of such will be reserved for production units while 30 percent of the total park area will be reserved for micro and small industries.

The districts chosen to have MSME parks already have a large number of units. Agra has 10,000 micro, 150 small, 30 medium and 15 large industrial units manufacturing leather products. Almost two lakh people are employed in these factories while the gross annual turnover is ₹ 6000 croe. In Kanpur, 2000 small and medium units manufacture leather products. These employ 120,000 workers and generate annual turnover of ₹10000 crore. In Moradabad, apart from 1800 small units manufacturing brass products, 25000 unregistered domestic units are the source of livelihood for more than 3.6 lakh artisans. The annual turnover of these units is ₹ 4950 crore. 30,000 artisans in Varanasi produce silk products and their annual turnover is between ₹ 2700-4500 crore. Similarly, in Azamgarh, 100,000 people earn their living from 20,000 textile and ready-made garment units whereas Gorakhpur has a thriving MSME sector with units operating in food processing, garment and terracotta businesses.

UP Govt. Winning the confidence of Investors

To turn a state into an investor-friendly destination, the first thing a government needs to do is to win the confidence of prospective investors. The Yogi Adityanath government achieved this goal by undoing the old systems of licenses and inspector raj and formulating suitable policies in consultation with the industries. To woo investments in the state, the government revamped industrial policy and came up with 21 investor-friendly sector-specific policies. It also created a single-window portal Nivesh Mitra to offer all required government services for industries with ease. All this helped the state in jumping to the second position in the 'Ease of Doing Business' rankings among all Indian states. UP has emerged as one of the most attractive investment destinations, and indigenous as well as foreign companies have acquired land for their units. Some foreign companies have shifted their base from China and more of them are in the process.

As a result of these investment friendly policies, MoUs worth Rs 4.68 lakh crore were signed during UP Investors' Summit. As many as 371 proposals have turned into real-time projects worth ₹ 3.0 lakh crore already commenced.

The Single window portal Nivesh Mitra has been established and is offering 327 services to industries and investors.

Even during the pandemic Covid-19, the state continued to attract investment. According to the state government data a total of Rs 56,000 crore FDI proposals received from companies belonging to 10 overseas countries during the period impacted by Covid.

To prevent delays and backlog and corruption in granting of licences the state government has developed a system to issue licenses to new industrial units within 72 hours of applying.

With sufficient efforts made to promote the defence industrial corridor in Uttar Pradesh a total of 74 MoUs worth ₹ 11, 973 crore were signed till early September 2021 for units in the Defence Corridor. The corridor is expected to attract investments worth ₹ 50,000 crore. The government officials are working to ensure this.

Meanwhile the state is working on other schemes as well and Rs 42,700 crore worth loans have been distributed under Atamnirbhar Bharat package to 12.9 lakh industrial units. It is promoting its One District One Product or ODOP scheme aggressively in all districts to strengthen the local economies and traditional handicrafts. Under this scheme loans worth more than ₹88.75 billion have been given to ODOP units. More than 2.5 million new job opportunities created as a result. These products are being marketed all over India and overseas leading to a jump in exports from the state.

Over 4.5 lakh govt. jobs given

नियुक्ति-पत्र वितरण
योगी

During the tenure of the incumbent Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath the government has created a record number of jobs for youth in the state. The government has created employment and work opportunities both direct and indirect for youth in the state providing employment to all working hands.

In the last four and a half years the state has topped in the nation when it comes to giving government jobs to youth. Even today the government is identifying vacancies in every department to fill them up so that more and more people are gainfully employed.

Efforts are being made to ensure that all vacancies are filled up in time and there is no delay in appointments.

The Yogi Adityanath has appointed 771454 youths on existing vacancies in government departments since the year 2017 till present date through the various commissions and recruitment boards in the state.

Along with regular government jobs several other jobs have been created in government departments by outsourcing work. A total of 450251 jobs have been provided to the youth. Most of the vacancies have been in the Uttar Pradesh Police where 143445 persons have been appointed and in the Basic Shiksha Department where 125987 persons have been given jobs. Compared to the jobs created in previous regimes the work done by Yogi is far ahead of his predecessors.

Appointment of Principals

The government will appoint principals to Basic Shiksha Parishad Junior High Schools by following this procedure. Forty percent of the principals will be appointed through departmental examinations and 60 percent of the principals will be appointed if they meet certain criteria set by the government. This process is to be completed by December 2020.

At present there are 52317 posts of principals or headmasters in 1.5 lakh primary and junior Schools which are lying vacant. The government is making all out efforts to fill these up at the earliest.

Out of this there are 30426 posts of principals of junior high schools.

9600 appointments in medical colleges

Under the One District One Medical College programme the government plans to appoint more than 9600 personnel in 16 districts in the medical colleges coming up there. These 16 districts are those where there are no existing medical colleges today.

These medical colleges which are coming up under a Public Private Partnership Model are expected to provide 1600 new doctors to the state every year. With these medical colleges coming up the bed capacity of the hospitals in the state is expected to increase by five to six thousand beds.

ONE DISTRICT ONE PRODUCT

The state of Uttar Pradesh is larger than many European countries and each of its districts' has specialized in the production of certain products. The state government came up with a plan to out to use this traditional talent and blend it with modern business practices to boost the local economies of the districts and at the same time increase the GDP of the country.

The state has diverse terrain, diverse crops and food, diverse climates, diverse community traditions and economic pursuits with a great diversity of crafts and industries. Even small towns and small districts are known for interesting and unique products typical of that area.

The state government's economic initiative was therefore named as the 'One District, One Product (ODOP)' to promote such indigenous and specialized products and crafts. All 75 districts have been taken under the programme.

The state government launched the initiative as its flagship programme in 2018 and since then it has proven to be highly successful in empowering the rural and traditional economy. It has helped various indigenous products hit international markets with huge success. The scheme was so impressive that the union government decided to moot it at an all-India level and by now it has been adopted by a number of other states and Union Territories as well.

As of now, over 11,296 ODOP products are available on various e-commerce platforms and the cumulative revenue from the sale of these products in last three years has been around ₹ 24.50 crore. The business volume is poised to grow significantly as the modern tools and marketing assistance provided by the MSME department have made their reach limitless. So a combination of traditional skills and modern software have worked wonders.

To make the programme successful, the MSME department has set up Common Facility Centres (CFCs) to provide all necessary support to the artisans and entrepreneurs. It also undertook research of possibilities regarding production, development, marketing of products and many other essential business aspects. The department has also arranged for advertising, publicity and marketing opportunities at district, state, national and international levels.

Exports soar through 'ODOP'

The aggressive marketing efforts to promote ODOP products across the globe have largely contributed to the 35% growth in exports from the state. For the ODOP industries, the government prepared district-wise strategies while it entered into MoUs with online marketing platforms.

To promote industries in villages a pilot project has been started in Prayagraj under which arrangements are being made for accommodation of the workers along with the training centre.

ODOP products of UP include ancient and nutritious 'Kala Namak' rice, the rare wheat-stalk craft, world-famous chikankari and zari-zardozi work on clothes, Asafoetida, Desi ghee, Fancy glassware, Bedsheets, Jaggery, Leather Goods and the intricate and stunning horn-and-bone work, a nature-friendly replacement for ivory. Many of these products are GI-tagged. Many of these were also dying community traditions that are being revived through modernization and publicization.

ED attaches Rs 35 cr of Ponzi scheme firm

The Directorate of Enforcement (ED) has provisionally attached assets worth Rs 35.70 crore of Vikram Investments and other associates in connection with the Ponzi investment scheme scam. ED initiated money laundering investigation on the basis of an FIR dated March 3, 2018 registered at the Banashankari police station against Raghavendra Srinath and his associates KP Narasimhamurthy, M Prahlada, KC Nagaraj and Sutram Suresh for cheating the public by luring them to invest in Vikram Investments, promising high returns. ENS

Genome sequencing to focus on clusters

Eighteen sub-lineages of Delta detected in India, vaccines not effective against the AY.4.2 variant

RANJANI MADHAVAN @Bengaluru:

THE state will step up its Covid-19 genomic sequencing, after two samples of the AY.4.2 variant were detected in Bengaluru. State Health Commissioner Randeep D told TNIE that genome sequencing of samples from cluster outbreaks and breakthrough infections will be done.

“We need to pick up the right samples for genomic sequencing, for which we need to choose areas where clusters are forming, and samples of those who have tested positive, despite being vaccinated against Covid-19. The fear of the third wave is with regard to the possibility of a new variant emerging. Hence, we need to catch it early,” Randeep said.

A health worker receives a dose of Covid-19 vaccine in Bengaluru | SHRIRAM BN

He said he will discuss the issue with the state Covid-19 Genomic Surveillance Committee. Recently, the AY.4.2 variant was detected only two months after the patients tested positive, by which time they had already recovered. Therefore, there is a need to get the results of sequencing early on, he informed.

There are 118 sub-lineages of Delta, of which 18 have been noted in India. Covid-19 vaccines are said to be only 60 per cent effective against the Delta variant, said Dr Vishal Rao, member of the state Genomic Surveillance Committee and chief of Head and Neck Surgical Oncology and Robotic Surgery at HCG Cancer Centre.

“It is prudent for us to be active and alert. The next three months will be crucial as there are socio-economic events, so we need to ramp up vigilance through genomic surveillance. We are in touch with genome sequencing experts from the US and UK to map and detect any variants, so we don’t experience another Covid-19 wave,” Dr Rao explained.

He added that the current level of genomic sequencing is parallel to the positivity rate, and is a model for other lower middle income countries to follow. There is optimisation of resources, collaboration between government and private agencies, and a public health response merged with high-end technology, Dr Rao shared.

The maximum number of genomic sequencing samples so far have been from the Delta variant with 1,698 cases, followed by 300 cases of various Delta sub-lineages. Apart from targeted testing, Randeep said the state intends to take up random Covid-19 testing during the festival season.

No change in norms, but mask up: BBMP chief

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta on Tuesday said that citizens must strictly follow the guidelines issued for Deepavali by various courts, central and state governments.

Speaking to the media, he said that instead of issuing any new guidelines, the Palike will ensure that people adhere to all the existing norms. “We are not issuing any new guidelines. But instead, will ensure that people do not break the rules which are already in place. Many think that they are safe because they are doubly vaccinated. But that is not the case. People should still wear a mask, maintain social distance, avoid crowded places and adhere to all Covid-19 norms,” he stated.

He further said that as cases of the new variant are being reported, people should not let their guards down. Marshals will be deployed at crowded places and markets to implement the guidelines.

On the issue of vaccination for kids, Gupta said that inoculation will start only after getting the guidelines from the central and state government. “Discussions are still on with experts about how to administer it,” he added.

Pertaining to the question of non-illumination and ill-maintenance of the newly re-done KR Circle junction, Gupta said that it could be because of technical reasons.

SPIKE IN CASES MAKES B’LURU A CORONAVIRUS HOTSPOT

DISTRICTS RECORDING ZERO CASES

OVER the last month, Bengaluru recorded an increase in active cases 12 times, while in the rest of the state, it was just five times, indicating that Bengaluru is the Covid hotspot at present. This is mainly due to high population density even as activities are back to almost normal.

In the same period, the statewide Covid recovery rate rose from 98.31 per cent to 98.44 percent, witnessing a drop only once, while Bengaluru saw a dip five times, with its recovery rate at 98.18 per cent.

The state on Monday registered just two deaths, which is the lowest so far in a single day in the second wave which started in March this year.

Five deaths were reported on Tuesday, which is the third-lowest. Bengaluru has been witnessing low number of deaths too, but the mortality rate has inched upwards to 1.30 per cent, as against 1.27 per cent of the state.

Health officials warned people to continue wearing masks and maintain strict hand hygiene, saying it is the best fool-proof method to stay immune from Covid-19.

REGULATE CONSTRUCTION IN PANCHAYAT LIMITS: HC

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court directed the state government to take appropriate steps to ensure compliance with Section 316(4) of the Karnataka Panchayat Raj Act, and issue a notification making bylaws applicable to all panchayats in the state. There are some panchayats which have not adopted the Act yet, and chaotic construction is happening in panchayat areas.

Justice M Nagaprasanna passed the order in view of mushrooming construction activity in areas under Gram Panchayats, Taluk Panchayats and Zilla Panchayats, in violation of model bylaws 2015, in terms of the Karnataka Panchayat Raj Act. The court was hearing a petition filed by Jyothi, a native of Bidirukote village in Maddur taluk of Mandya district.

Noting that the Karnataka Panchayat Raj Act has control over construction of buildings, the model bylaws 2015 are binding on panchayats and any construction should be within the parameters stipulated in the bylaws. The court said the bylaws came into force on May 8, 2015.

"There are various Gram Panchayats, Taluk Panchayats and Zilla Panchayats in the state. The panchayats are obliged in law to adopt the bylaws and bring construction undertaken in the precincts of those areas, within the parameters stipulated in the bylaws. If the panchayats have not adopted the same, despite close to seven years of coming into effect, they have done it at their own peril," the court said.

It noted that the violation of known norms in construction laws is not limited to areas in the corporation, but has percolated down to panchayats, and thus, the government must regulate work in panchayat areas too.

THE Karnataka High Court directed the state government to make necessary changes in the website (http://kaverionline.karnataka.gov.in) of department of stamps and registration to enable the uploading of registered documents by the sub registrars, who are registering authorities, without insisting for the production of '11E' sketch.

Justice SR Krishna Kumar, at Dharwad Bench of High Court, passed the order while allowing the petition filed by Vaishali from Bagalkot district. The petitioner contending that the website, as it stands now, does not permit uploading of registered documents in the absence of 11'E' sketch, hence requesting the court to issue directions to register the sale deed presented by her, without insisting on the '11E' sketch.

"It has become absolutely essential on the part of the state government to make necessary corrections to the website, and take necessary steps to enable uploading of documents by the registering authorities, even in the absence of '11E' sketch, and without insisting for production of the same", remarked the court, directing the order to be circulated.

HUZARABAD: EATALA SHOWS TRS ITS PLACE

Wins by a margin of 23,855 votes

R PRIDHVI RAJ @Hyderabad

FORMER Minister Eatala Rajender trounced TRS nominee Gellu Srinivas in the by-election for Huzurabad Assembly seat, on Tuesday, with a majority of 23,855 votes, proving that no one could dislodge him in his home turf.

An elated Rajender, after receiving the certificate of victory, said, "This is a historic verdict. It is slap on KCR. It is a condemnation of the gross abuse of authority, distribution of money, liquor and a host of other model code violations." This comes after Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao dismissed Rajender from the cabinet, and launched an inquiry into the alleged purchase of assigned lands, about five months ago. Though Rajender fought the election representing BJP with Srinivas, the battle was between him and KCR, and not the parties or ideologies. Rajender, as per his constituents, was unfairly dismissed after winning six elections, and had done a lot of good work for the locals.

The BJP State President Bandi Sanjay Kumar, believes that the party is unstoppable, and can challenge KCR in the 2023 Assembly elections.

YSRC RETAINS BADVEL IN STYLE

Vijayawada: THE Yuvajana Sramika Rythu Congress Party retained the Badvel SC reserved Assembly segment, by a resounding margin of over 90,000 votes. This is double the margin that the party got in the 2019 elections. By getting more than 76 percent of the vote share, the YSRC made the bypoll a no-contest in which the two main parties -- the BJP and the Congress -- lost their deposits. Ever since the first round of counting, it was YSRC's Dr G Sudha who maintained the lead and extended it as the counting went on. Of the 1.47 lakh votes polled, Sudha secured 1,12,211 votes while BJP's P Suresh secured mere 21,678 votes leaving a margin of 90,533 between the two. Former MLA PM Kamalamma of Congress polled 6,235 votes and lost her deposit.

Agencies find no bitcoins on Sriki yet, say sources

"WITHOUT KYC it is impossible to track the ownership or trading in cryptocurrency. The matter continues to be under investigation," the sources added.

Sriki had allegedly hacked the Centre for e governance portal of the State government and siphoned off Rs 10.5 crore, which he had diverted to various bank accounts in India and overseas. The Directorate of Enforcement (ED) had booked him under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, and in August this year had provisionally attached Rs 1.44 crore that he had allegedly diverted to bank accounts of an NGO - Uday Grama Vikash Sanstha in Nagpur - and proprietorship, Nimmi Enterprises in Bulandshahr, Uttar Pradesh respectively. "Besides this amount, no trail of money has been found yet," said sources. The ED through "informal" channels also wrote to some countries, where Sriki had claimed to have diverted funds. The countries wrote back stating no bank accounts under his name have been found.

The CCB had also written to the Interpol through the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) to raise an alert following Sriki's claims that he had hacked into some overseas websites and accounts of some important people including in India. "Those claims are yet to be verified," said the sources.

After his arrest last year, Sriki had reportedly told the CCB that he was a hacker and has been hacking websites and bitcoin portals since 2014. "In 2014, the face value of bitcoins was much lower than what it is now and the anti-hacking/safety mechanisms were not that stringent. He said that he had encashed some bitcoins and spent them living an opulent life in five-star hotels. He is also heavily into drugs and has reportedly bought drugs with the ill-gotten money on the darknet. There is a high element of anonymity in darknet. It is this anonymity that he has encashed upon," added the sources.

Sriki is currently on bail. CCB, ED and the CID are investigating him.

Ice melting in Arctic linked to India's rain

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA @Chennai

THE increase in episodes of extreme rainfall in India, including in Kerala and parts of Tamil Nadu, may have its roots in the Arctic nearly 9,000 km away. A recent study published in the Nature journal by Indian and Norway scientists establishes a strong correlation between the rapid melting of ice in the Arctic, and its adverse impact on India's monsoons.

The study titled 'A possible relation between Arctic sea ice and late season Indian Summer Monsoon Rainfall extremes' was led by Sourav Chatterjee, a scientist specialised in Atmosphere-Ocean Interactions Studies at Goa-based National Centre for Polar and Ocean Research (NCPOR). M Ravichandran, secretary, Ministry of Earth Sciences (MoES), is a co-author.

"Our findings suggest that during the years when there is reduced summer sea ice in the Barents Kara sea region in the Arctic, the Indian Summer Monsoon exhibits an increased number of extreme rainfall events at its later phase, i.e in the months of September and October. The changes in upper atmospheric circulation due to sea ice loss in the Arctic region propagate towards Asia, and contribute to enhanced moisture convection. The warm temperatures in the Arabian sea further helps in providing moisture required for extreme rainfall," Sourav Chatterjee told TNIE.

The researchers have based their findings on historical rainfall data obtained from Indian Meteorological Department, and sea ice data from National Snow and Ice Data Center (NSIDC).

MoES secretary M Ravichandran has attributed this year's abnormal rainfall in October that triggered massive floods and landslides in Kerala and Uttarakhand to the same phenomenon.

"This anomalous melting of ice has caused the excess rainfall events in Kerala and elsewhere in India. We analysed decades of data and there is a clear pattern. The study of precipitation and temperatures in the Arctic will help in improving the accuracy of our climate forecast," Ravichandran said.

BALANCING PROMPT DECISION-MAKING WITH ROOTING OUT GRAFT

Shock waves have hit the banking industry after former State Bank of India chairman Pratip Chaudhuri was arrested and remanded in judicial custody on Monday following the directions of a Rajasthan court. The case relates to the sale of Hotel Gaudavan in Jaisalmer, a non-performing asset (NPA), to Alchemist Asset Reconstruction Company (ARC) at allegedly 10% its market value. The petition before a judicial magistrate claims the former SBI chief had manipulated this under-valued sale in 2014. Several bankers have expressed their dismay, while the industry body, the Indian Bank Association (IBA), has pointed out that "the sale of assets are financial decisions and these are executed by adhering to strict due diligence norms".

Prima facie, the Rajasthan magistrate seems to have embarked on cowboy-style justice without necessary legal process. Both the SBI, which sold the hotel asset after a payment default, as well as the buyer of the asset, the Alchemist ARC, were not made parties to the case. Chaudhuri appears to have retired from the SBI about six months before the asset was sold to Alchemist ARC. On the other hand, soon after his retirement, he became chairman of Alchemist. It is not clear whether he was arrested for his role as SBI chief or as chairman of Alchemist ARC.

The arrest is a big setback to the industry as it comes days after the Union government absolved bankers from flak for business decisions gone wrong. NPAs in the hands of banks have eroded value and cannot be compared to the market value they once commanded. In the long run, this kind of criminal action will push bank managers back to the point of indecision. It is the last thing we need at a time when the economy needs expansion of credit. On the other hand, despite all the institutional checks and balances, corrupt bankers continue to bend the rules to favour a select few. As it is, former ICICI Bank CEO Chanda Kochhar is facing charges of helping Videocon Group with a loan of ₹3,250 crore. While bankers have to take prompt and correct decisions, institutional safeguards too have to be strengthened to guard against corrupt officers.

DOFF YOUR HAT TO VIRAT KOHLI

Virat Kohli has not had the greatest of times lately. With India staring at an early exit from the World Cup, the skipper may have well lost a final opportunity to win the country an ICC trophy for the first time since 2013. However, Kohli's most significant act as leader during the last week came off the field, when he stood up for teammate Mohammad Shami. The pacer was a victim of targeted abuse following the match against Pakistan. In a world increasingly divided on race, creed, colour and religion, the abusers latched on to his faith.

While other luminaries of the cricketing establishment said anybody could have an off day and Shami has won India many games, the Indian skipper was the only one who touched upon the sensitive topic: the pace bowler's religion. Even as the media manager wanted journalists to move on from the area of questioning, the captain, in a rare political statement, hit out at the abuse. Just to recap what he said: "Attacking someone over their religion is the most pathetic thing that a human being can do. Honestly, I don't even want to waste one minute of my life to give any attention to those people and neither does Shami ... or anyone else in the team."

In isolation, that's just a leader supporting his teammate through thick and thin but this statement by Kohli went over and beyond that. Religion has always been a hot button issue in this country. Social media is replete with such bigotry and hatred. That is why what Kohli did touched a chord in everyone's heart. In a country where silence is increasingly turning into a virtue, the captain stood by his friend, colleague and teammate. While others skirted the issue completely, Kohli, like he has always done, protected his teammate like an elder brother would. Virat may not be a perfect captain, but what he has done should be applauded. After all he has shown that bigotry is not part of the vocabulary of sports.

The Nobel laureate's memoir offers hope and a model for a much-needed course correction to recognise and recover our diverse cultural inheritances

HOMES OF AMARTYA SEN & NOVEMBER THOUGHTS

AMIT BANDRE

SUGATA SRINIVASARAJU

Senior journalist and author

In the month of November, when many linguistic states in India celebrate their birth anniversaries by fortifying their chauvinistic positions and sharpening their exclusionary tongues, reading Amartya Sen's memoir, Home in the World, is soothing. It offers hope and a model for a much-needed course correction to recognise and recover our diverse cultural inheritances. It also inspires us to take the wider world as our playfield instead of confining ourselves to narrow, restricted corners. This is not a review of the memoir but an appreciation of how the book places the local and the universal, seemingly opposites, on the same plane and demonstrates their splendid interplay all through.

Sen's memoir that was published a few months ago begins with an interview question: "So, where is your home?" That was what the BBC asked him in 1998, when he was appointed Master of the Trinity College at Cambridge. This was just before he won the Nobel Prize for Economics. Sen had moved from Harvard University, where he was teaching since 1987, to Trinity, where he had been a student earlier. He had taught at various places in India, the UK, the US and Europe before he joined Harvard. Sen was originally from West Bengal, and more particularly from Santiniketan; however, he had spent his early years in Dhaka. His father's family hailed from Matto in Manikganj district of what is Bangladesh today.

Amidst all these journeys, stations, cities and memories, to ask which one really was his home is a question packed with innocent curiosity. Sen responds to the interviewer by saying: "I have more than one welcoming home, but I don't share your idea that a home has to be exclusive." When he offers this rather esoteric answer, the interviewer probes further to extract a definite answer. They ask about his favourite food, with the hope to reveal his true identity because palates often betray us. He mentions a few dishes but includes the hilsa fish 'cooked in proper Dhaka style with ground mustard'. Again, he qualifies his response by saying: "I would not like to live on any one of them as my only food." Sen makes it difficult in his memoir to pin him down to a home, a language, a dish, a dialect and a single intellectual tradition. Yet, he comes across as belonging to a place and many places simultaneously. His omnipresence is organic and astonishing.

For a memoir, surprisingly, there is no longing or nostalgia that Sen gets caught up in. There is only a recollection of knowledge and wisdom picked up at different points in time and in different coasts and corners of the world. Interestingly, to point out that his childhood home in Dhaka was called 'Jagat Kutir' (world cottage) may symbolically add to the narrative that we are trying to build here. Despite our repeated invocation of the world, Sen is not rootless. It would be outrageous to say so. He is only rootedly cosmopolitan. Something that the best and the grandest traditions of our Indian languages and literatures have represented and celebrated across centuries.

Sen's somewhat metaphorical insistence on being a river that gently touches and gathers from many banks as it flows (as against being a static pond) should remind us of the poem Aniketana by the 20th century's great Kannada writer Kuvempu or K V Puttappa (excerpts here from V K Gokak's translation): "Be unhoused, O my soul! / Only the infinite is your goal./ Leave those myriad forms behind./ Leave the million names that bind ... Winnow the chaff of a hundred creeds./ Beyond the systems, hollow as reeds,/ Turn unhorizoned where truth leads,/ To be unhoused, O my soul!" These are lines not very different from Tagore's aspiration. Sen writes that Tagore "did not like our thoughts being incarcerated within our own communities—religious or otherwise—or being moulded by our nationality ... And despite his love of the Bengali language and literature, he did not like being imprisoned within a single literary tradition either, which could lead not only to a kind of bookish patriotism, but also to the neglect of learning from the rest of the world".

Sen's somewhat metaphorical insistence on being a river that gently touches and gathers from many banks as it flows (as against being a static pond) should remind us of the poem Aniketana by the 20th century's great Kannada writer Kuvempu

Sen, at different bends in his memoir, tries to explain that he does not find the need for a unique or exclusive identity (an idea he has dealt with elaborately in his earlier book Identity and Violence). With all his international qualifications and appointments, if Sen is thought of as belonging to the anglophone world of Western academia, then this line in chapter six will make us sit up: "Sanskrit was close to being my second language after Bengali, partly because my progress in English was very slow. At St Gregory's [school] in Dhaka I had resisted education in general, but English in particular, and when I moved to Santiniketan, the medium of instruction was very firmly Bengali. The language of the Raj somehow passed me by—at least for many years." In fact, Sen in his early years retained a Dhaka dialect of Bengali and his classmates at Santiniketan teased him as 'Kaibo', amused by his peculiar choice of words. That is how local he was and is.

The first part of the memoir with six chapters speaks of his roots and the rest is about spreading those roots and reaching the sky to form a distinctive worldview. It is distinctive because his archetype of the universal is formed by a variety of experiences. If one looks at Pandit Taranath, Shivarama Karanth or other renaissance figures in Kannada, each one constructed their own model of the universal while being 'sons of the soil'. When the Kannada nation was being formed in the 20th century (around the same time the idea of India was being constructed) and Kannada modernity was being ushered in, they mixed Enlightenment values and reason with local idioms. That made the Kannada nation wonderfully inclusive and expansive. There were similar liberal impulses in other languages and 'sub-nationalist' cultures. Sadly, there is some depletion in the values cultivated by our visionary founding fathers, and November is a good month to warn ourselves about this.

NO CLIMATE JUSTICE WITHOUT EQUITY

HINDOL SENGUPTA

Vice President & Head of Research, Invest India, GoI's national investment promotion agency

India has launched a new climate equity website called climateequitymonitor.in and asked some critical questions about the 'net zero' approach. As the sixth largest economy and the fourth largest source of greenhouse emissions, India's concerns are critical to the future of the global warming debate.

And the country, one of the biggest investors in renewable energy in the world, from record solar installations to rapid electric vehicle rollout, and with a record of keeping to its Paris Agreement commitments, is asking some of the most important questions about how to tackle global warming.

In simple terms, India is asking why the burden of emissions should not be calculated historically, and the responsibility to mitigate it in the future allocated according to the cumulative history of emissions.

What this simply means is that countries that have historically caused the maximum impact through emissions must proportionately carry the responsibility to ensure a rapid decrease in emissions.

Merely proportionately dividing future responsibility of emissions is not equitable because it ignores the highly unequal history. We should not forget the simple fact that developed countries have contributed to a vast majority of emissions for most of history, which triggered global warming.

India has announced 2070 as its net-zero cut-off, which is only fair considering the 2050 deadline by OECD (Organisation of Economic Cooperation and Development) countries and China's 2060 target. If wealthier nations want a further reduction of timeline, they must contribute to the progress of countries like India—the fastest growing nation of its size in the world—to reduce poverty through widespread development in them.

Without this kind of support, it is unfair and disrespectful to expect nations like India (per capita GDP at around $2,000) to stall their growth process and condemn tens of millions to abject poverty. Funding the transition to a low emission economy while maintaining growth that provides development builds the mass buy-in for the journey towards such as economy. India has already made significant commitments towards this transition, pledging to boost its non-fossil energy capacity to 500 GW by 2030, and by that year ensuring that half of its energy needs are met through renewable sources. It will also reduce its net projected carbon emission by one billion tonnes by 2030 and bring down the carbon intensity of its economy by more than 45%. Proportional to its population, India only emits a small fraction of greenhouse gases. That number is rising swiftly and therefore assistance in transitioning its economy would be welcome in India as it would be in many other growing, developing nations.

Equity is an important and defining objective and India has asked for a commitment of $1 trillion from developed nations to assist the transition in developing economies. A world struggling to reach a commitment of $100 billion needs to hear this to understand the scale of what is needed to achieve the goal of arresting global warming

Equity is an important and defining objective here, and India has asked for a commitment of $1 trillion from developed nations to assist the transition in developing economies. A world struggling to reach a commitment of $100 billion needs to hear this to understand the scale of what is needed to achieve the goal of arresting global warming.

As the Climate Equity Monitor platform notes, "The concepts of equity and justice have been central to many debates on the nature of climate action since the establishment of the UNFCCC (United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change). Article 3.1 of the UNFCCC states that: 'The parties should protect the climate system for the benefit of present and future generations of humankind, on the basis of equity and in accordance with their common but differentiated responsibilities and respective capabilities'."

Positionality is an important idea in social science. In this debate, moving the contours to equity ensures that the positionality changes. History matters and the positionality of a country depends not only on the current situation but the long history that contributed to the making of the present scenario.

Climate equity is the first step towards climate justice, towards an era where a fair distribution in responsibility and resource-spending is allocated to countries that have contributed for a long time to global emissions and built their economies on that basis.

India, therefore, is right in using, and placing upon the table for conversation, the topic of justice and the fact that this can only be achieved if everyone acknowledges their share of responsibility according to their historic weight. There can be no real climate equity without considering the point of climate justice, which may have been delayed but must not be denied.

High-profile arrest

The arrest of former chairman of the State Bank of India, Pratip Chaudhuri, in a loan fraud case should send shivers down the spines of bankers, both serving and retired. This is even more so as the arrest has come a good eight years after the banker hung up his boots. While former SBI chairman Arundhati Bhattacharya has vouched for Chaudhuri's honesty and transparency, the court has rejected his bail and sent him to 14-day judicial custody. Several former heads of banks are on the dock for irregularities and even corruption, but this is perhaps the most high-profile arrest.

C V Aravind, Bengaluru

Ambitious targets

Prime Minister Narendra Modi has set an ambitious target of India meeting net-zero emissions by 2070 along with four other key pledges during his speech at the COP26 summit at Glasgow. Such high goals will require the unwavering support of people, avid participation from private players as well as unshakeable dedication from the government. One hopes India accomplishes all these goals in the set time frame and makes history.

Das did well during Covid

This is with reference to Second innings for RBI governor (Nov 2). Extending Shaktikanta Das' tenure as RBI governor is a reward for his ingenuity during his term. He aptly dealt with the economic slowdown both before and after the pandemic. He was able to maintain financial stability by announcing a number of measures. Because of his quick actions, the nation saw some growth despite the health crisis.

Address stigma

This is with reference to Mental health vs World Mental Health Day (Nov 2). A majority of people living with mental health issues in low- and middle-income nations do not get adequate treatment. The pandemic has increased the challenges manifold. Apart from talking about mental health, we need to address the stigma associated with it.

Educating young minds

In an age when everything is rushed and one has no time to stop and stare, it is the task of educators to inculcate the values of empathy, compassion, respect and trust among students. Inculcating such ideas at a young age can de-addict their mind of various prejudices and bad habits, thus improving their mental health to face the challenges of change.

Against scientific temper

The archaic and medieval decision of some teachers and non-teaching staff not to take the Covid vaccine in Kerala on religious grounds goes against scientific temper. The state government did well to disallow them from reporting for work when schools reopened in Kerala.

Government's hypocrisy

India's vaccination drive was this successful because of the cooperation of the people and the support of major religious groups. The Kerala government's initial decision to give exemption to teachers who refused to take the vaccine exposes the hypocrisy of leaders who boast of rationality.

BJP's tepid show likely to put Nadda under pressure

But wins in Madhya Pradesh, Assam and Telangana will act as a balm for the saffron party which is gearing for the next year's state polls

MANISH ANAND @ New Delhi

THE outcome of the first major nationwide bypolls after the second wave of the Covid pandemic may leave the BJP more worried than excited in the run up to key electoral battles early next year.

Even if one sets aside the BJP's downhill journey in Bengal, the Congress sweep in Himachal Pradesh seemingly sent out a loud message that the hill states invariably votes out incumbent governments. The BJP will also need to worry for not making any gains in Rajasthan where the saffron outfit is still struggling to address the leadership issue.

The party will count on the victories in Assam and Madhya Pradesh where the incumbent chief ministers Himanta Biswa Sarma and Shivraj Singh Chouhan delivered a perfect result. The BJP failed to defend two Lok Sabha constituencies, losing Dadra and Nagar Haveli to friend the Shiv Sena and Mandi to the Congress.

BJP chief J P Nadda is likely to come under pressure, as the party was routed in three Assembly seats and one Lok Sabha constituency. Besides anti-incumbency factor firming up, the BJP was also hit hard by the infighting within its ranks, with the state leadership failing to project a united house.

The BJP continues to gain in Assam from Sarma's elevation as the chief minister by making inroads into the Congress support base. The BJP led alliance won all the five Assembly seats in the state. The pattern is also paying rich dividends to the BJP in Madhya Pradesh, with the induction of Jyotiraditya Scindia giving the party additional electoral muscle.

The win in Huzurabad will cheer the party leadership as Telangana is on top of the states where it wants to expand in the near future. The BJP and the RSS are working in tandem to gain from the vacuum in the Opposition space.

In Bengal, the party is seemingly faced with the hard lessons that such short-cuts are tough to maintain. Out of the four Assembly seats that it lost in Bengal, the BJP had won Dinhata and Santipur just a few months ago.

Congress supporters celebrate the bypoll win in Himachal's Mandi LS seat | PTI

THE sweep in Himachal Pradesh and Rajasthan bypolls and a prestigious win in Karnataka Chief Minister Basavraj Bommai's home district have come as a big boost to the beleaguered Congress while the Northeast remains a cause of worry for the grand old party.

In a major upset for the BJP in Himachal and home state of BJP chief JP Nadda, the Congress won all three Assembly seats of Fatehpur, Arki and Jubbal-Kotkhai. Worse, the ruling BJP's candidate Brigadier (retd) Khushal Singh Thakur lost to former Congress MP Pratibha Singh in Mandi Lok Sabha seat as well.

A senior Congress said it reflects the mood of the people in the BJP-ruled state where elections are scheduled by the end of 2022. But many in the party expressed concerns over the party losing all contested seats in the Northeast. "This will boost the party's performance polls in five states and this is a vote against the anti-people policy of BJP government in states and Centre," said the leader.

What has come as a setback for Karnataka CM is the BJP losing Hangal in his home district Haveri. The bypoll was seen as a prestige issue for the CM who replaced BJP veteran BS Yediyurappa.

In Rajasthan, the Congress' win in two seats has given a big boost to CM Ashok Gehlot, who has been under pressure for cabinet expansion and reshuffle to include members from the Sachin Pilot camp.

Later, the Congress warned the Modi government to shed arrogance and repeal three farm laws and stop looting of petrol, diesel and gas. "The BJP lost 2 of 3 Lok Sabha bypolls. It lost at most places in a direct contest with Congress. HP, Rajasthan, Karnataka and Maharashtra have witnessed it. Disdain for people's pain is harmful," tweeted senior leader RS Surjewala.

In Maharashtra, the Congress won Deglur with Jitesh Antapurkar defeating BJP's Subhash Sabne. The bypolls were held to three Lok Sabha seats and 29 Assembly constituencies. In Madhya Pradesh, BJP won Khandwa Lok Sabha and Jobat, Prithvipur which were earlier with the Congress. The ruling BJP lost Raigaon to the Congress.

RAJASTHAN

Gehlot gets a lift, BJP loss is victory for Vasundhara

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

THE Congress and Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot got a big Diwali gift by winning both the Assembly bypoll in Vallabhgarh and Dhariyawad.

Though Vallabhnagar was with the Congress, the win was impressive in Dhariyavad as the BJP had won it by 23,000-plus votes earlier. For the BJP, it was a humbling experience as it came third and fourth in the two seats.

The Congress victory is all set to strengthen the leadership of Gehlot who faces constant challenges from Sachin Pilot. In contrast, the big defeats are likely to further intensify the rift in the BJP state unit with former CM Vasundhara Raje again getting a breather.

Gehlot's credibility and BJP's new experiment with the Sangh leadership were both at stake in these bypolls. Experts believe that Gehlot is miles ahead of Pilot in the war of supremacy in Rajasthan Congress. Although Pilot had initially held meetings with Gehlot for both the seats, the electoral reins remained in the hands of Gehlot and state unit president Govind Singh Dotasra.

While Gehlot can send a message to the high command that his popularity remains intact, the hands of Dotasra are also strengthened. The calls for handing over the PCC command to Pilot will also become faint.

"BJP has come third and fourth in both the by-elections and I think it is all due to the hard work of the Congress party workers. This is a victory of Rajasthan and the good governance that is being done under the leadership of our CM," Dotasra said.

In the BJP, many leaders from the RSS camp including the likes of state president Satish Poonia and LoP Gulabchand Kataria are likely to face serious questions over their choices and leadership.

For Vasundhara Raje, the results can be a case to recast her as the undisputed leader of the BJP. In Vallabhnagar, the BJP was hoping that it would at least save credibility. Instead, it got far less votes than Janta Sena candidate who is known to be close to Raje.

HISTORIC

Sena expands LS footprint outside Maha for first time

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE win in Dadra Nagar Haveli bypolls was historic for the Shiv Sena given that it is the first Lok Sabha seat won outside its traditional turf in Maharashtra.

Sena's Kalaben Delkar trounced BJP candidate Mahesh Gavit by 51,269 votes. The bypoll was necessitated due to the death of independent Lok Sabha MP Mohan Delkar. Sena had fielded his widow. In 2019, Mohan Delkar had won by 9,001 votes.

"First step outside Delhi, a giant leap towards Delhi via Dadra Nagar Haveli," Shiv Sena Rajya Sabha MP Sanjay Raut tweeted after the party won the parliamentary constituency.

Sachin Parab, a senior journalist who closely follow the Shiv Sena and wrote books on Uddhav Thackeray's grandfather Prabodhankar Thackeray, said that the Dadra Nagar Haveli victory will give Sena more power and voice to attack to BJP in the coming days. "The Shiv Sena has shown that it can fight and defeat the BJP in its territory. There will be more political slugfest between Uddhav Thackeray and Narendra Modi-Amit Shah in future. This victory has also catapulted Uddhav as the centre of Maharashtra politics."

While Bal Thackeray had failed to create Sena's base in Dadra Nagar Haveli, his son Uddhav succeeded in the task, he added. "The victory has also consolidated the position of Maha Vikas Aghadi. They will strongly fight BJP."

Trinamool juggernaut rolls on

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

SEAT	State poll	Win margin	Bypoll	Win margin
Dinhata	BJP	57	TMC	1,64,089
Shantipur	BJP	15,878	TMC	64,675
Khardah	TMC	28,140	TMC	93,832
Gosaba	TMC	23,709	TMC	1,43,051

DAUNTING POSITION

The TMC's strength in the 294-member Bengal Assembly has now rose to 215, while the BJP's tally has come down to 75

THE ruling Trinamool Congress continued its juggernaut in Bengal where it snatched two assembly seats, including one that falls in the Lok Sabha constituency of a Union minister, from the BJP and retained two others by bagging around 75 per cent votes.

In its so-called citadel of North Bengal, the BJP lost Dinhata constituency, which is part of Union minister Nisith Pramanik's Cooch Behar Lok Sabha constituency. It also stumbled in Shantipur at Nadia where the Matuas shifted their political allegiance to the TMC. Worse, the BJP candidates lost its deposit in Dinhata, Khardah and Gosaba.

Ssensing a tough electoral battle, the BJP left no stone unturned to retain Dinhata and Shantipur. Incidentally, Pramanik had won by a razor-thin margin of 57 votes in the Lok Sabha polls.

"Once, Dinhata was a stronghold of the Left Front's ally Forward Bloc. Its vote-bank supported the BJP in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections paving the saffron camp deep inroads in north Bengal. In the 2021 Assembly elections, the TMC caused a dent on the Bloc's vote-bank that shifted to the BJP and as a result, a tooth and nail battle took place resulting in Praminik's slender win. In the by elections, the TMC candidate won with a margin of over 1.64 lakh votes which indicates en bloc support to our party,'' said a TMC leader.

The ruling party was confident about retaining Gosaba and Khardah as both seats fall in its strongholds.

In Nadia's Shantipur, the TMC leader said, the Matuas realised that they were duped by the BJP. "Ahead of the previous Lok Sabha and Assembly elections, the BJP promised Matuas that it is implementing the CAA and the NRC. But a few months ago, the Centre said in Parliament that CAA and NRC would not be implemented in near future,'' he said.

Shivraj strengthens his stamp over Kamal Nath

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

IN what was billed as the battle of heavyweights, Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan outsmarted Leader of Opposition Kamal Nath as the ruling BJP outperformed the Congress in Madhya Pradesh.

Chouhan came all out in the campaign trail. In contrast, Nath not only joined the campaign trail late, but also largely confined himself to addressing lesser rallies.

While Chouhan addressed 39 rallies between September 29 and October 27 (maximum 8 in Prithvipur assembly seat, Nath addressed merely 13 rallies between October 12 and October 17.

Not only did 74-year-old Kamal Nath hit the campaign trail nearly two weeks after 62-year-old Chouhan did, but also addressed 26 less meetings than the present CM.

And that wasn't all, as Nath just stood confined to addressing a few rallies, while Chouhan followed the rallies with night halts at the houses of BJP workers at five places.

"These polls have once again established that the CM is the most charismatic BJP leader in the state. His night halt in Jobat-ST seat, which has been a Congress citadel, played a seminal role in boosting BJP's chances. The night halt was followed by early morning chaupal with tribals, which not only boosted BJP prospects among tribals, but also compelled the BJP workers to shelve their anger over fielding of imported candidate (Sulochana Rawat) instead of a core BJP candidate and work unitedly for the party's success," said Chandrabhan Singh Bhadauria, a senior journalist who extensively covered the Jobat-ST by-poll.

Another Congress Digvijaya Singh too suffered major jolt due to the loss in Khandwa Lok Sabha and Jobat-ST seat, where electioneering was largely supervised by him.

One year ahead of Assembly elections, alarm bells ring for Himachal BJP

Congress leader Pratibha Singh celebrates her victory in Shimla | PTI

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

WITH little more than a year left for the Himachal Pradesh elections, the ruling BJP is left with a lot to ponder given the drubbing in the bypolls to all the three Assembly segments and one Lok Sabha seat.

The most upsetting result for the BJP was the Mandi Lok Sabha seat, the home district of Chief Minister Jai Ram Thakur from where the Congress candidate won by a margin of 8,766 votes.

Spread across six districts, Mandi is the largest parliamentary seat in India. It is the home turf of Thakur. Out of the ten Assembly segments falling in this district, the saffron party candidate lead in eight while congress lead in two Assembly seats. As from Thakur's own assembly seat of Seraj, the BJP candidate lead by 21,000 votes. In the rest seven assembly seats, Congress candidate Pratibha Singh won.

Fatehpur was retained by the Congress as Bhawani Singh Pathania defeated Baldev Thakur of the BJP by 5,789 votes. Arki was also retained with the Congress winning by 3,126 votes.

In Jubbal-Kotkhai Assembly seat, the Congress won by 6,103 votes. The rival was a BJP rebel as he was not given the ticket by the saffron party. BJP candidate Neelam Sarek came third polling just 2,584 votes.

Chief Minister Jai Ram Thakur said he humbly accepted the verdict given by the people in the by-elections to one Lok Sabha seat and three assembly constituencies of the State. He said that these results were not according to the party's expectations and that the BJP lost Mandi Parliamentary seat by a narrow margin.

"We will try to meet the expectations and aspirations of the people of the state and will work with renewed zeal and dedication to perform better in the assembly elections," Thakur said. The party will introspect the causes which led to its defeat and formulate a strategy to overcome its shortcomings and do everything possible to ensure victory, the Himachal chief minister asserted.

Mamata dedicates poll win to people of Bengal

THE Dadar and Nagar Haveli Lok Sabha by-elections perhaps provided the icing on the cake for the opposition, where for the first time the Shiv Sena won a parliamentary seat outside its stomping ground of Maharashtra.

Telangana's Eatala Rajender retained his Huzurabad seat defeating the ruling Telangana Rashtra Samithi (TRS) by a wide margin. He was earlier elected from the same seat on a TRS ticket and became a minister but resigned and joined the BJP following differences with Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao. There were no surprises in Andhra Pradesh as the ruling YSRCP retained the Badvel-SC seat.

The saving grace for the BJP and its allies came from Madhya Pradesh and the northeastern states. While in MP it won two of the three Assembly seats and the lone Lok Sabha constituency, the NDA bagged all nine Assembly seats in Assam, Meghalaya and Mizoram.

Himachal Chief Minister Jai Ram Thakur owned responsibility for the BJP's defeat in the three Assembly constituencies and one Lok Sabha seat. "The party will introspect, will formulate a strategy to overcome its shortcomings and do everything possible to ensure victory in next year's elections," he said.

In Haryana, Abhay Singh Chautala of the Indian National Lok Dal described his victory from Ellenabad as a win for the agitating farmers.

IN Bengal, the ruling Trinamool snatched the Dinhata and Shantipur constituencies from the BJP while retaining Gosaba and Khardah. But the highlight of the wins was the sheer scale of the victory as the Trinamool bagged around 75% of the popular votes.

"This victory is people's victory as it shows how Bengal will always choose development and unity over propaganda and hate politics," Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee tweeted.

The Congress victories in Rajasthan's Vallabhnagar and Dhariyavad is set to strengthen CM Ashok Gehlot's hands against his rival, Sachin Pilot. In contrast, the BJP's defeat is likely to intensify the rift in the state unit with former chief minister Vasundhara Raje the gainer against her detractors.

Madhya Pradesh lifted the gloom in the BJP with the party not only wresting two Congress bastions, Jobat-ST and Prithvipur, but also retaining the Khandwa Lok Sabha seat, albeit with a much narrower margin than the 2019 LS polls.

Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan dubbed the win as a perfect Dhanteras and Diwali gift. His predecessor and PCC chief Kamal Nath accused BJP of misusing official machinery and money and muscle power.

SC JUDGE FLAGS DELAY IN RELEASE DESPITE BAIL ORDERS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

EXPRESSING concern over the delay in communicating bail orders to jail authorities on time, Supreme Court Judge Justice D Y Chandrachud stressed that this drawback in the system needs to be corrected at the earliest as it affects the liberty of the individuals.

"This is a serious deficiency in our system, the delay in communication of bail orders. This touches upon human liberty of every under trial," he said.

Recently, Aryan Khan had to spend two extra nights in jail despite getting bail from the Bombay High Court.

"One of the initiatives which Chief Justice S Muralidhar is launching at the Orissa High Court is the e-custody certificate, so that every undertrial and every convict who is undergoing the sentence of imprisonment will have an e-custody certificate tagged to them," Justice Chandrachud said at the inauguration of virtual courts and e-Sewa Kendra at Allahabad HC and district courts.

"That certificate will give all the requisite data with regard to that particular undertrial or convict, right from initial remand to the subsequent progress."

This will also help in ensuring that bail orders are communicated as soon as they are made, he added.

In his speech, Justice Chandrachud, who is also the chairperson of e-committee of the apex court, also expressed hope that live streaming of Allahabad HC proceedings would soon become a reality, like what is already prevalent in Gujarat and Karnataka high courts.

The SC judge also highlighted the need for E-seva kendras, stating that it has been necessitated due to digital divide due to which a large chunk of our population does not have access to technology.

"There is this great digital divide, lawyers are representatives of these people at large," he said.

SP eyes non-Yadav votes to sail through 2022

Akhilesh has placed stakes on the most backward castes who now constitutes over 40% of SP state committee

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

TAKING a cue from the pages of the success story of Bharatiya Janta Party (BJP) which had mobilised non-Yadav backward classes in its favour and had romped home with a mammoth majority in 2017 assembly polls, the Samajwadi Party is concentrating on extracting the support of non-Yadav voters to sit in the saddle of Lucknow in 2022 assembly polls.

The saffron party had tightened the hold on dominant backward classes other than Yadavs in 2017 by picking up Keshav Prasad Maurya to head party's state unit ahead of 2017 electoral battle and later appointing him as deputy CM of the state.

The Mauryas have a sizeable presence in eastern UP districts while Kushwahas are in large numbers in central UP and Bundelkhand.

There are 42-45 per cent OBC voters in UP. Yadavs are around 9 per cent of those, and have traditionally supported the Samajwadi Party. Parties continue to fight over the 32-35 per cent of non-Yadav OBC votes. This was evident in Modi cabinet rejig in August when among the 28 new OBC ministers, only one was a Yadav.

The Samajwadi Party (SP) has a dedicated vote bank in M-Y (Muslim-Yadav) combination. There are 9 per cent Yadav voters in UP. According to Prof AK Mishra, a political scientist, around 8 per cent of Yadavs are expected to go with the SP. Similarly, Muslims are 19 per cent of Uttar Pradesh's population and about 15% of them may vote for the SP, because they feel that only Akhilesh Yadav can give a strong fight to the BJP.

Banking on Muslim votes

Muslims are 19% of Uttar Pradesh's population and about 15% of them may vote for the SP, because they feel that only Akhilesh Yadav can give a strong fight to the BJP

Kurmis in the picture

Kurmis are the second largest OBC community after Yadavs in UP. They hold sway over 16 UP districts with around 12 per cent population. These districts include Mirzapur, Bareilly, Sonbhadra, Unnao, Banda, etc.

The BJP had been cementing ties with other caste leaders like Anupriya Patel, a Kurmi, to woo the Kurmis and also Sainis.

Meanwhile, Akhilesh Yadav has been looking to rope in a large number of new Kurmi and Rajbhar leaders to increase the SP's support among non-Yadav backward castes.

Shiv Shankar Singh Patel, former minister and BJP MLA from Banda, Dilip Verma, husband of BJP MLA Madhuri Verma from Bahraich, former Congress MP Bal Krishna Patel are among the non-Yadav backward caste leaders who have joined SP recently.

Besides, some of the most prominent faces of the BSP including Lalji Verma and Ram Achal Rajbhar, two strong leaders of Ambedkar Nagar district who were expelled from the BSP, have also joined the SP last week. While Lalji Verma has a clout among Kurmis and Sukhdev Rajbhar is a prominent Rajbhar leader.

Going by the 72-member Samajwadi Party state committee announced on October 19, Akhilesh has placed stakes on the most backward castes who make up more than 40 per cent of the members on the committee. Significantly, only seven Yadavs find a place in the state executive committee of the party apparently realising the worth of non-Yadav votes.

"Till Mulayam Singh Yadav was heading the party, he along with his close aide Beni Prasad Verma used to get both Yadav and Kurmi votes in large chunks. But after Beni, SP had been facing the dearth of Kurmi support," said JP Shukla, a political analyst.

Channi, Sidhu take cold vibes to icy Kedarnath heights

VINEET UPADHYAY @ Dehradun

AMID reports of widening rift between Punjab Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi and state Congress president Navjot Singh Sidhu, the duo visited former Uttarakhand chief minister Harish Rawat in Dehradun on Tuesday. While official statements said the duo stopped at Rawat's residence while travelling to Kedarnath shrine, party insiders said the visit was the result of party high command's instruction to the duo to meet Rawat to resolve their differences.

A party insider from Uttarakhand told this newspaper that the rift is wide open for everyone to witness. "Sidhu and the CM can't see each other eye to eye. They were instructed to meet Rawat ji and sort out their differences. Paying visit to Kedarnath shrine seems to be a viable distraction and an alibi."

The duo along with Punjab Congress in-charge Harish Chaudhary and Vidhan Sabha Speaker Rana KP Singh are visiting Kedarnath shrine.

Tough Congress leaders, including Sidhu, tried to portray that everything was fine, the photographs which surfaced after the meeting and from the shrine indicated that attempts to bridge the gap between Sidhu and the Punjab CM not working. Sidhu, after meeting Rawat, told media person that "there is no greater 'dharm path' than 'kartavya path'. "Dharm is working for the welfare of the needy and giving people happiness. It's the message Lord Shiva. We came here to seek blessings so that we could work the people of Punjab."

Meanwhile, Rawat said he felt happy to see that "all is well in Punjab". Everything is working flawlessly and the Congress party is dealing with issues efficiently. I have full confidence in the likes of Harish Chaudhary. Working together in Punjab is taking us towards victory for the Congress."

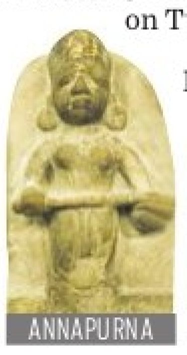
Amarinder later told the media that the new party will be registered after approval from the Election Commission of India. The party will be formally launched later. Its policies, programmes, agenda and vision will be spelt out at the time of the launch, he added.

Ancient idol returns to Varanasi

PARVEZ SULTAN @New Delhi

AN ancient idol of Goddess Annapurna, which was smuggled out of the country around 100 years ago, has been brought back and it will installed in Kashi Vishwanath Temple in Varanasi, where it was originally placed. The statue reached Delhi on October 15.

The idol of Goddess Annapurna retrieved from Ottawa, Canada has been received by the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) and it will be taken to Varanasi, union culture minstet G Kishan Reddy said on Tuesday.



ANNAPURNA

In November last year, Prime Minister Narendra Modi announced that the idol was being brought back. It was stolen and taken out of the country around 1913 said Modi during his monthly radio programme --Mann Ki Baat. According to the culture ministry, since 1976, 55 idols have been returned to India. Maximum nearly 75 per cent of them were retrieved during the tenure of the tenure of Modi regime between 2014 and 2021.

Out of the 55 antiquities, 42 were returned after 2014 with the Annapurna Devi being the last addition to this, said the ministry. The idol will be first taken to Aligarh on November 11 then Kannauj and reach Ayodhya on November 14. It will reach Varanasi on November 15 where it will be placed at the Kashi Vishwanath Temple.

Cop, school principal sacked for terror links

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

AFTER Home Minister Amit Shah reviewed security situation during his 4-day visit to J&K last week, Jammu and Kashmir government on Tuesday sacked a police officer and principal of Govt Girls Higher Secondary School for allegedly involved in anti-national activities by invoking Article 311 of the constitution of India.

Deputy Superintendent, Jails Feroz Ahmad Lone R/o Futlipora area in central Kashmir's Budgam district and principal Government Girls Higher Secondary School at Bijbehara Javed Ahmed Shah were sacked by the government.

An order issued by Additional Secretary to the Government, General Administration Department stated that J&K Lt Governor Manoj Sinha is satisfied after considering the facts and circumstances of the case and on the basis of the information available that the activities of Feroz Ahmad Lone, Deputy Superintendent warrants his dismissal from service.

Similar order was issued for the sacking of Javed Ahmed Shah, principal Government Girls Higher Secondary School R/o Eidgah, Bijbehara Anantnag.

Sources said DySP Feroz allegedly hatched criminal conspiracy with militant commanders to send youth to Pakistan for receiving arms training and then push them back into Kashmir as active militants of Hizbul Mujahideen.

The sacked principal, according to sources, is a member of banned Jamaat-e-Islami and is accused of being a supporter of Hurriyat.

FIR against BJP leader over hate speech

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Srinagar

THE police in Jammu and Kashmir has registered an FIR against a senior J&K BJP leader and former MLC Vikram Randhawa for hate speech while the saffron party has acted against him and relieved him of all party posts and served show cause notice asking him to tender public apology or face strict disciplinary action.

Sources said an FIR No 357 of 2021 under sections 295-A and 505(2) has been registered against Randhawa at Bahu Nagar Police Station in Jammu for hurting religious sentiments and promoting enmity between religious groups.

The FIR was registered after a video of Randhawa in which made derogatory remarks about the Kashmiri Muslims had gone viral.

In the undated video, Randhawa was purportedly telling his supporters, "I think the agencies are doing a good job. They are not taking celebrations in Kashmir over Pakistan's victory over India in World T20 match casually. Since the beginning, we have been demanding that not just their (academic) degrees be cancelled, their citizenship must also be revoked. They should be beaten up and skinned alive".

The hate speech by the BJP leader evoked strong resentment and condemnations from all sections of society.

J&K BJP president Ravinder Raina said it was unacceptable that a person occupying high position in the party makes a statement, which hurts religious sentiments.

Rly's first art gallery in Kevadia

RAJESH K THAKUR @New Delhi

TOURISTS visiting the Statue of Unity, at Kevadia in Gujarat from across the country will soon have an opportunity to know about the arts, crafts, culture and tradition of the state. The Vadodra division of Western Railway zone of Indian Railway (IR) has planned to set up a magnificent art gallery, attached with a Souvenir shop at country's first green railway station here.

The proposed art gallery at Kevadia railway station will be first of its kind to be developed by the Indian Railway under the PPP mode to showcase the Gujarat and country's arts, crafts, culture and other traditional grandeur to the tourists on way to the Statue of Unity.

"The Arts Gallery with a souvenir shop will be developed and operated by the private party on PPE mode with earnings to Railways of Rs 24.7 lakh". The country's first green Kevadia railway station facilitates rail connectivity from all parts of country.

U'khand BJP trying to pacify Char Dham priests

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Dehradun

TAKEN aback by the warning of priests at Char Dham temples that they would not allow Prime Minister Narendra Modi's scheduled visit to Kedarnath shrine on November 5, the top leadership of BJP government in the state has travelled to Delhi to discuss the matter with party high command.

The priests are protesting against the Char Dham Devsthanam Board Act passed by the Uttarakhand Assembly in December 2019. The priests have been opposing the law even before its inception alleging that it robs them of their "haqhukuk (traditional rights)".

Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami, state BJP chief Madan Kaushik and other leaders are in Delhi to discuss the matter with BJP national president J P Nadda and other senior leaders.

A BJP leader from Uttarakhand told this newspaper on condition of anonymity that the protests by priests have shocked the government as well as the state party leaders. "They (leaders) are apprehensive of PM's visit being disturbed. Back-channel talks are ongoing with the priests and some decision can be expected soon."

On Monday, former CM Trivendra Singh Rawat had to face protest by the priests, sending shockwaves within the state government as well as the party. The protests, sloganeering and agitation by the priests was so strong that Rawat had to leave the shrine without obtaining darshan.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to Kedarnath is scheduled for November 5.

Meanwhile, CM Dhami met priests from Badrinath shrine on Tuesday evening and assured them that a solution will be found regarding the Act.

UP on alert after 11 Zika cases identified

Lucknow: UP has been on high alert after 11 Zika virus cases came to light in Kanpur since Oct 23. Kanpur has recorded 11 confirmed cases. Dr Vedvrat Singh, director general of medical health, UP, said, "We are conducting the infectious disease control drive."

Two-pronged offensive against Naxals planned

SANA SHAKIL @ New Delhi

WITH the rains coming to an end, and the visibility in the densely forested jungles increasing, security forces are ready to resume their two-pronged strategy against Naxals - penetrating deeper into strongholds and setting up security camps.

Sources in the Home Ministry said that a "big" anti-Naxal operation could be on the cards in states of Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Maharashtra and Odisha.

Forces look to set up 24 Forward Operating Bases (FOBs), including ten in Chhattisgarh, seven in Maharashtra, six in Jharkhand and one in Odisha, before the year-end.

Besides these 24 camps, the government is also mulling a few more camps in Jharkhand and Odisha, a senior government functionary said, adding that the idea is to corner Maoists by opening up new police and paramilitary camps to cut down the area of Maoist influence to a minimum and then go out after big Maoist leaders.

"CoBRA, CRPF's anti-Naxal specialized wing, in coordination with various state police forces is closely monitoring the movement of Maoists especially the senior rank holders. The strategy is to tighten the noose around Maoists by expanding the network of security camps especially in core Naxal areas. With the rains now over, the work on security camps has already been expedited. Big anti-Naxal operations would follow thereafter," said a senior CRPF official who is deployed in Chhattisgarh.

A senior intelligence official in New Delhi said that wanted Maoist leader Madvi Hidma, along with a dozen armed Maoists was seen in two villages in Dantewada two weeks ago.

After the 2017 Burkapal encounter, security forces have been employing various strategies to counter the influence and movement of Maoists. There has been a steep decline in violence levels recently.

BJP MLA upset with price rise

Dispur MLA Atul Bora said circumstances vis-à-vis his affiliation to the ruling BJP compelled him to keep quiet on the issue of price rise. He said if he had been in the Opposition, he would have definitely raised his voice on it. He claimed 90 per cent of mustard oil in the market was adulterated and raised his concern over rising fuel prices. "We produce petrol and we have two-three oil refineries. It would have been nice if the people of Assam could buy fuel at cheaper rates. I stay outside the cabinet and as such, I cannot discuss such issues," the legislator further said.

South Korea keen on investing in Assam

South Korea has evinced a keen interest in investing in Assam's healthcare, food processing, infrastructure and tourism sectors and bringing Korean companies to the region. A high-level South Korean delegation, led by the Embassy of the Republic of Korea, met senior officials of Assam's Commerce and Industries Department recently to explore the feasibility of investment in multiple sectors. An official statement said the South Korean delegation discussed economic and bilateral cooperation between Korea and the Assam government with the Korean officials expressing keen interest in healthcare, etc as the state has huge potential for health tech, which is largely untapped. The two sides also explored the possibility of collaboration between the Korean companies and the state.

Girl shamed for wearing jeans, father beaten up

A shop owner refused to serve a customer and allegedly misbehaved with her because she was wearing jeans. The man, Nurul Amin, runs his electronics business from his house in northern Assam's Biswanath district. Her father was allegedly beaten up by Amin and his sons for registering a protest. The girl alleged the shop owner had yelled at her and rebuked her. "When I asked him why he was behaving like that, he told me I should be wearing burqa or hijab and not jeans," the girl said. Two months ago in neighbouring Sonitpur district, a girl ruffled many a feather when she went to appear for an exam in shorts.

Northeast's first dog cemetery opened

A first of its kind canine cemetery has come up in the Northeast at Mairakuchi on the outskirts of Guwahati. The cemetery, which covers 28,800 sq ft of land, is the brainchild of an NGO, Just Be Friendly. It is located near a pet hospital and offers scientific burial. The facility is likely to dissuade people from disposing the carcasses of their pets in water bodies or garbage dumps. Since the "memorial park" came up a month ago, about a dozen dogs have been buried. Each scientific burial entails an expenditure of around `3,000 but the NGO is not charging anything.

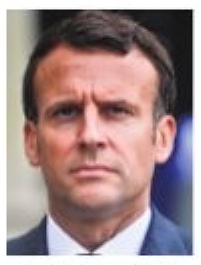
WHO'S LYING?

Leaked SMS sharpens Australia-France row over cancelled subs

PARIS

FRANCE on Tuesday accused Australia of using "very inelegant methods" after a text message sent by President Emmanuel Macron to Australia's Scott Morrison was leaked in an apparent bid to imply that he knew about the collapse of a major submarine deal earlier than he maintains.

Media in Australia and Europe reported on the SMS which the French leader sent to Morrison two days before Australia announced that it had torn up a decade-old multi-billion-dollar contract with France to build a new fleet of submarines.



French President Emmanuel Macron

Australian PM Scott Morrison

France, which reacted furiously to the cancellation, has always said it had been blindsided by the announcement, and Macron added to the furore at the weekend by accusing of Morrison of lying to him. But the revelation of the text message Tuesday can be seen as suggesting Macron was less surprised by the cancellation than he has admitted.

"Should I expect good or bad news for our joint submarine ambitions?", reads the SMS sent to Morrison 48 hours before the official contract cancellation announcement which was made at a news conference.

A source close to Macron, who asked not to be named, said the leak was proof of "very inelegant methods".

Standing by earlier assurances that Macron had not been given advance warning of the cancellation, the source told AFP the SMS did not undermine that narrative.

"On the contrary, this SMS shows that the president did not know that they were going to cancel the contract," the source claimed. Had a message existed that clearly showed that he did in fact know "they would have reported that instead".

The source added: "We knew that the Australians had some issues, but they only concerned technical aspects and the timetable, as with every big contract like this one."

It was precisely those issues that the SMS referred to, ahead of a discussion with submarine manufacturer Naval Group planned for the following day, the source said. It is not clear what response Morrison gave to the SMS. Reports have said the SMS leak could have been engineered by Morrison's office in retaliation for the "lying" charge.

The row also pitted Paris against the US which agreed with Canberra to supply submarines instead of the French.

Australia announced the pact as it joined a new defence alliance with Britain and the US dubbed AUKUS, one of a series of initiatives by Biden who views countering China as the US' paramount concern. AFP

India not part of COP26 deforestation vow

Stays out of pledges to protect forests & reduce methane emissions globally by 30% at Glasgow conference

GLASGOW

WORLD leaders promised to protect the world's forests, cut methane emissions and help South Africa wean itself off coal at the UN climate summit on Tuesday — part of a flurry of deals intended to avert catastrophic global warming.

Britain hailed the deforestation commitment, but experts noted that such promises have been made and broken before.

India is among the countries that has chosen not to sign up to the Leaders' Declaration on ending deforestation by 2030. According to official sources, India had some concerns around linkages made in the final text with trade.

And, though they are among the top five emitters of methane, China, Russia and India have not signed a non-binding US, EU-led pledge to cut global emissions of methane — the most potent greenhouse gas — by at least 30% this decade.

The Glasgow Leaders' Declaration on Forests and Land Use commits the signatories to halt and reverse forest loss and land degradation, backed by almost 14 billion pounds in public and private funding. The UK government said it has received commitments from leaders representing more than 85% of the world's forests to halt and reverse deforestation by 2030. Among them are several countries with massive forests, including Brazil, China, Colombia, Congo, Indonesia, Russia and the United States.

"With today's unprecedented pledges, we will have a chance to end humanity's long history as nature's conqueror, and instead become its custodian," British PM Boris Johnson said. "Let's end this great chainsaw massacre by making conservation do what we know it can do, and that is deliver long-term sustainable jobs and growth as well."

On Tuesday, the administration of US President Joe Biden launched a plan to reduce methane emissions, a potent greenhouse gas that contributes significantly to global warming. The announcement was part of a broader effort with the European Union and other nations to reduce overall methane emissions worldwide by 30% by 2030.

Clamping down on methane flaring and leaks from oil wells and gas pipelines is considered one of the easiest ways to cut emissions. Reducing methane produced from agriculture, in particular by belching cows, is a trickier matter.

Helen Mountford, a climate expert at the World Resources Institute, said the agreement "sets a strong floor in terms of the ambition we need globally."

Separately, the US, Britain, France and Germany announce a plan to provide funds and expertise to help South Africa phase out coal. South Africa, which gets 90% of its electricity from coal plants, will receive about $8.5 billion in loans and grants to roll out renewable energy. Agencies

2014's empty promise

Alison Hoare, a senior research fellow at political think tank Chatham House, said world leaders promised in 2014 to end deforestation by 2030, "but since then deforestation has accelerated across many countries." UN Secretary-General António Guterres said on Twitter: "Signing the declaration is the easy part. It is essential that it is implemented now for people and planet."

PM Modi launches initiative for fortifying infra in island nations

GLASGOW

PRIME MINISTER Narendra Modi on Tuesday launched the Initiative for the Resilient Island States (IRIS) for developing infrastructure of small island nations, saying it gives a new hope, a new confidence and satisfaction of doing something for the most vulnerable countries.

Stating that the Small Island Developing States or SIDS face the biggest threat from climate change, Modi said India's ISRO will build a special data window for them to provide them timely information about cyclones, coral-reef monitoring, coastline monitoring etc. through satellite.

The IRIS initiative is a part of the Coalition for Disaster Resilient infrastructure that would focus on building capacity, having pilot projects, especially in small island developing states.

Speaking on the occasion, British Prime Minister Johnson said that it's incredibly cruel that vulnerable, small island states are right in the frontline of loss and damage that is caused by global warming.

"They have done virtually nothing to cause the problem, they didn't produce the huge volumes of CO2 to be pumped into the atmosphere,' he said. PTI

Facebook ending face recognition in photos

SAN FRANCISCO

FACEBOOK is shutting down its facial recognition system and deleting a billion faceprints, its parent company said Tuesday, in response to serious concerns over privacy at the scandal-hit network.

The announcement came as the tech giant battles one of its worst crises ever, with reams of internal documents leaked to reporters, lawmakers and US regulators.

"There are many concerns about the place of facial recognition technology in society, and regulators are still in the process of providing a clear set of rules governing its use," parent company Meta said in a statement. "Amid this ongoing uncertainty, we believe that limiting the use of facial recognition to a narrow set of use cases is appropriate," it added.

The decision shuts down a feature that automatically identified people who appeared in users' digital photos, and that was key to the company building a sprawling, global library of faces.

However, the feature was also controversial, and was the target of regulators, lawsuits and lawmakers.

It was not clear when the changes would take effect, but they will be widely felt with Facebook noting that more than a third of its daily users have opted in to using the facial recognition system.

Shutting down that system "will result in the deletion of more than a billion people's individual facial recognition templates," the statement said.

Facial identification, launched in 2010, went through changes to tighten privacy but still was central to a significant lawsuit.

Facebook agreed in 2020 to a $650 million payout after failing to win dismissal of the case alleging it illegally collected biometric information for "face tagging" in violation of a 2008 Illinois privacy law.

Legendary musician who 'started singing as baby' dies in Damascus

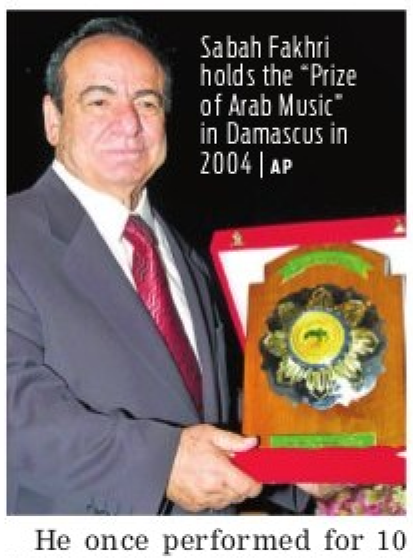
BEIRUT

ONE of the Arab world's most famous singers, Sabah Fakhri, who entertained generations with traditional songs and preserved extinct forms of Arabic music, has died. He was 88.

Born Sabah Abu Qaws in the Syrian city of Aleppo in 1933, Fakhri got his stage name as an adolescent when he started performing.

He soon rose to fame to become one of the Arab world's legendary tenors and one of its exceptionally charismatic entertainers. Fakhri was a world class Tarab singer, an Arabic form of music associated with emotional evocation that could last for hours.

Onstage, Fakhri would engage the audience and sway to the music almost in a trance, turning the lyrics of his songs, often in classical Arabic, into refrains they can easily sing back with him.



Sabah Fakhri holds the "Prize of Arab Music" in Damascus in 2004 | AP

He once performed for 10 hours straight in 1968 a concert in Caracas, Venezuela, without a single break, earning an entry in the Guinness World Records. Fakhri's voice was so powerful and distinct, he once told his interviewers that his family recognized it when he was a baby. "I started singing when I was born," he once told an interviewer for CBC. AP

Pakistan's NSA won't attend conference on Af in India

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN National Security Advisor (NSA) Moeed Yusuf on Tuesday said he would not travel to India to attend a conference hosted by it on Afghanistan, as he dismissed New Delhi's role as a "peacemaker" in the neighbouring nation.

India extended the invitation to Pakistan to attend the regional conference on Afghanistan next week, expected to be hosted by Indian NSA, Ajit Doval.

The Taliban seized power in Afghanistan on August 15, two weeks before the US was set to complete its troop withdrawal after a costly two-decade war.

'I will not go. I am not going. A spoiler can't become a peacemaker," Yusuf said in response to a question about whether he will be attending the meeting hosted by India.

A curt no by Yusuf laid to rest a possibility of thaw in ties between Pakistan and India.

Ties between India and Pakistan nose-dived after a terror attack on the Pathankot Air Force base in 2016 by terror groups based in the neighbouring country. Subsequent attacks, including one on an Indian Army camp in Uri, further deteriorated the relationship.

The relationship dipped further after India's war planes pounded a Jaish-e-Mohammed terrorist training camp deep inside Pakistan on February 26, 2019 in response to the Pulwama terror attack in which 40 CRPF jawans were killed.

The relations deteriorated after India announced withdrawing special powers of Jammu and Kashmir and bifurcation of the state into two union territories in August, 2019. PTI

Fuel prices soar by ₹8 a litre in Oct

Analysts see no signs of relief for consumers as global crude prices likely to hit $90 a barrel

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

ONE litre of petrol breached the ₹110-mark on Tuesday in the national capital while the same was sold at ₹115.85 in Mumbai. In a more troublesome news for consumers, especially during the on-going festive season, fuel prices are showing no signs of slowing down after becoming dearer by around ₹7.50-8.00 a litre in October alone.

The rate of 1 litre of petrol was hiked by 35 paise on Tuesday, though the price of diesel remained unchanged. With this fresh hike, seventh in a row, petrol prices in Delhi was at a record high of ₹110.04 per litre on Tuesday, while diesel was sold at ₹98.42 per litre.

Among the four metros, fuel prices are the highest in the financial capital Mumbai, with 1 litre of petrol and diesel costing ₹115.85 and ₹106.62, respectively. In Chennai, petrol is at ₹106.66 per litre, while diesel is available at ₹102.59. In Kolkata, petrol and diesel are retailing at ₹110.49 and ₹101.56 per litre, respectively.

In Ganganagar (Rajasthan), where fuel rates are highest in the country, a litre of petrol and diesel are available at ₹122.70 and ₹113.21, in respectively.

In October 2021, fuel prices were hiked on 24 days out of 31 days. By including Tuesday's figures, petrol has become costlier by ₹8.20 a litre in 26 days, while diesel by ₹8.65 per litre. Factors that have led to the steep rise include the rise in international prices. Crude prices are higher by $9-10 a barrel since August 2021 due to lower supply and high demand.

However, it is the high taxes, which account for almost half the price of fuel, which is really pinching the consumers. Taxes currently make up more than 53% of petrol prices and over 47% of that of diesel (in Delhi).

The WTI (West Texas Intermediate) Crude Oil market rallied in last few days, and is hovering around $85 level.

"The $85 level has recently provided significant resistance. If we can break above that level, the market will most likely head for the $90 level, which is my longer-term thesis," says Kshitij Purohit, Lead Commodities and Currency at CapitalVia Global Research.

Harees V, Head of Commodity at Geojit Financial Services, meanwhile, feels that there are chances of a correction in the immediate run. Easing global energy crisis and an increased US shale oil production likely to cool down prices. Also, a rise in production from the OPEC expected to limit major rallies in prices, says Harees.

Trail of price hikes to continue

- In October, fuel prices were hiked on 24 days out of 31 days
- Current crude prices are higher by $9-10 a barrel since August 2021
- Fuel rates are highest in Rajasthan (Ganganagar)

All-time high e-way bill likely to spur GST collection in Nov

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE government is expecting its goods and services tax collection in November to exceed the October revenue as e-way bills or electronic permits generated for goods transportation rose to an all time high.

"October collection was good but we expect November GST collection to exceed that. The reason for the optimism is the manufacturing sector has done well and we have seen e-way bill at all-time high of 73.5 million," a senior official from the revenue department said.

The number of e-way bill was 71.2 million in March which resulted in the highest GST collection of ₹1.41 lakh crore in April. Apart from the festive season, even manufacturing sector has seen highest growth in last 8 months.

GST collection stood at ₹1.3 lakh crore in October for transactions in September, recording the second highest collection since the roll out of the GST regime in 2017. The collection was 24% higher than in October 2020, and up 36% over 2019-20.

The official added that it has made a special drive for tax evasion during the festive season. The tax department has already initiated several steps to discourage non-compliance, including measures such as blocking e-way bills for not filing returns, system-based suspension of registration of taxpayers who have failed to file six returns in a row, and blocking credit for return defaulters. A special drive to detect tax evasion was also launched.

"Apart from the demand driven collection, we have launched special drive to detect GST evasion during the festive season. This is resulting in better compliance," the official added.

"We forecast the GoI's gross tax revenues to exceed the FY2022 Budget Estimate (BE) by at least ₹2 lakh crore. Out of this, roughly ₹1.4 lakh crore would be retained by the Union government, whereas ₹600 billion (₹60,000 crore) would be shared with the states," Aditi Nayar, chief economist ICRA, said.

RBI issues fresh PCA framework for all banks

THE RBI on Tuesday issued a revised Prompt Corrective Action (PCA) framework for banks to enable supervisory intervention at "appropriate time" and also act as a tool for effective market discipline.

Capital, asset quality and leverage will be the key areas for monitoring in the revised framework, the RBI said.

The revised PCA framework will be effective from January 1, 2022.

"The objective of the PCA Framework is to enable Supervisory intervention at an appropriate time and require the Supervised Entity to initiate and implement remedial measures in a timely manner, so as to restore its financial health," the central bank said.

The PCA framework is also intended to act as a tool for effective market discipline. The RBI also stressed that the PCA Framework does not preclude the Reserve Bank of India from taking any other action as it deems fit at any time, in addition to the corrective actions prescribed in the framework.

"Indicators to be tracked for capital, asset quality and leverage would be CRAR/Common Equity Tier I Ratio, Net NPA Ratio and Tier I Leverage Ratio, respectively," according to the revised framework. PTI

TAIWAN TO WOO BACKERS TO JOIN PACIFIC TRADE PACT

Taiwan will seek support for its bid to join a trans-Pacific trade pact when it attends a meeting of economic leaders of the Asia-Pacific group APEC next week, President Tsai Ing-wen said on Tuesday. China, which has also applied to join the pact, opposes Taiwan's membership and has increased military activities near the island which Beijing claims and has not ruled out taking by force. Taiwan and China both applied in September to join the Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans-Pacific Partnership (CPTPP). Economic leaders from the Asia-Pacific trade group APEC, which includes the United States, China and Japan, will meet virtually next week to discuss a path forward for the region to recover from the Covid-19 pandemic. I'd like to ask envoy Chang to use this meeting to gather support from more APEC members for Taiwan to join CPTPP," Tsai told reporters, referring to Taiwan's representative for the meeting, chip giant TSMC founder Morris Chang. Joining CPTPP has become the latest in a string of tensions between Beijing and Taipei, which is excluded from many international bodies because of China's insistence that it is part of "one-China" regardless of Taiwan's claim that it is an independent country.

JAPAN

POLICYMAKERS REAFFIRM BOJ'S 2% INFLATION TARGET

Japanese policymakers on Tuesday reaffirmed the Bank of Japan's (BOJ) commitment to its 2% inflation target in a meeting held between the central bank chief and the country's economy and finance ministers. The Japanese government and the central bank also agreed to keep in close contact and cooperation, in line with commitments made in a 2013 joint statement, which also laid out the country's inflation target for the first time. Prior to the meeting, there had been some market speculation that the government and the BOJ may review the joint statement and the 2% inflation goal, given stubbornly weak prices have made the target elusive. "The most important issue was to reaffirm the joint statement," Economy Minister Daishiro Yamagiwa told reporters after the meeting. Tuesday's meeting comes after Fumio Kishida took over as Japan's prime minister last month, a position strengthened by his party's solid victory in general elections on Sunday.

ASIA

ASIAN SHARES MIXED AS INVESTORS AWAIT FED DECISION

Global shares idled just below record highs on Tuesday and currencies held tight ranges as nervous investors awaited the Federal Reserve's policy meeting, one of several central bank decisions this week that could set the tone for risk appetite. The Reserve Bank of Australia was the main focus on Tuesday, as it took a step toward unwinding extraordinary pandemic stimulus policies by abandoning an ultra-low target for bond yields. The spotlight now swings to the Fed and then the Bank of England, which also have meetings this week. Asian shares were mixed with the MSCI's gauge of Asia-Pacific stocks outside Japan holding steady at 0435 GMT, Japan's Nikkei edging 0.4% lower and futures pointed to a weaker European and US open. The MSCI's world equities index was down a marginal 0.02%, with Pan-region Euro Stoxx 50 futures 0.25% lower and E-mini futures for the S&P 500 index down 0.21%. The Aussie was 0.25% lower to be within its two-week range at $0.75 while the kiwi moved 0.1% lower to $0.7172. Australia's S&P/ASX 200 was down 0.5%. Chinese shares fell 0.6%, dragged by financials and consumer firms even as the country's cabinet pledged more support for the consumer services sector, while tech stocks drove Hong Kong's Hang Seng index 0.6% higher. South Korea's KOSPI index gained 1.50%. Overnight, Wall Street advanced to record highs helped by gains for energy shares and Tesla.

FM to nix tax exemptions to rationalise rate

ANURADHA SHUKLA @ New Delhi

THE Union finance ministry, which has started work on Budget 2022-23 and is reviewing both personal and corporate tax exemptions, has hinted that it might roll back some concessions for industry. The ministry is currently assessing both the economic costs and benefits of schemes before taking a call on what to keep and what to nix, sources said.

A senior official told this paper that this is in line with the government's policy to broaden the tax base by reducing rates and letting go of exemptions. "Some exemptions were withdrawn in the last Budget and the review process is on for the rest. A few tax breaks that will expire soon won't be renewed," the official added.

While he declined to name any scheme, it is learnt that the capital gains tax exemption for investing in startups, which expires in March 2022, may not be renewed. Ditto with the basic customs duty and IGST exemptions for export-oriented units.

In its letter seeking suggestions for the upcoming Budget, the ministry urged industrialists to back their recommendations with economic justification. "It would not be feasible to examine suggestions that are either not clearly explained or supported by justification..." the letter read.

Delhivery to raise ₹7,460 cr via IPO

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

JOINING the IPO rush, logistic firm Delhivery has filed preliminary papers with capital markets regulator Sebi to raise ₹7,460 crore through an initial public offering (IPO).

The IPO comprises fresh issuance of equity shares worth ₹5,000 crore and an offer for sale (OFS) component of ₹2,460 crore by existing shareholders, according to the draft red herring prospectus (DRHP).

Delhivery, like Zomato and CarTrade, is a loss making company. In the draft papers, the company said it will continue to incur losses in the near future. It has reported losses to the tune of ₹1,783.30 crore, ₹2,68.92 crore, ₹415.74 crore and ₹129.58 crore in fiscals 2019, 2020 and 2021, and the three months ended June 30, 2021, respectively.

"...We may continue to experience losses and negative cash flows in the future as we anticipate increased expenses in the future," the company said in the draft papers. Investors Carlyle Group and SoftBank as well as Delhivery's co-founders will divest their shareholding in the logistics company.

At present, SoftBank owns a 22.78% stake, Carlyle has a 7.42% stake, and China Momentum Fund has a 1.11% stake in the company. Bharti owns 1.11%, Tondon has 1.88%, and Saharan holds a 1.79% stake.

Mumbai: Of the targeted ₹61,000 crore debt resolution by the fiscal-end, IL&FS has resolved ₹52,200 crore of the same by October-end and will address ₹4,800 crore more through the course of the year, the management said on Tuesday. The company is sitting on a cash balance of ₹16,700 crore as of end-October. The company has repaid ₹14,100 crore of debt this fiscal so far, according to chairman Uday Kotak who added that the company will address ₹4,800 crore more this fiscal year.

₹63,574 cr loans given under credit outreach programme

New Delhi: Banks have sanctioned loans worth ₹63,574 crore to about 13.84 lakh borrowers under the credit outreach programme, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said on Tuesday. "'The loans under the Credit Outreach Programme are over and above those sanctioned and disbursed under the various central government loan guarantee schemes," FM said in a tweet. Banks have been holding special camps across various parts of the country to sanction loans.

QUARTERLY RESULTS

BANK OF INDIA Q2 PROFIT NEARLY DOUBLES

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

STATE-RUN lender Bank of India on Tuesday reported profit at ₹1,051 crore for the quarter ended September, almost double from ₹525.8 crore posted in the year-ago period, mainly on account of decline in provisions.

The bank reported a sharp fall in provisions and contingencies for the quarter at ₹894 crore, declining 46% from ₹1,652 crore in Q1FY22 and falling 56.3% from ₹2,045 crore in Q2FY21.

"Advances increased to ₹4.18 lakh crore in September 2021 quarter, from ₹4.07 lakh crore in same the quarter last year, while deposits jumped to ₹6.12 lakh crore from ₹6.07 lakh crore in the same period," the bank said in a regulatory filings.

Its net interest income fell 14.3% year-on-year to ₹3,523.5 crore in September 2021 quarter, with a 2.7% YoY increase in gross advances and 0.89% rise in deposits. Net interest margin at 2.42% dropped 24 bps YoY. Credit cost declined further to 0.26% in Q2FY22, from 0.95% in Q1FY22.

Asset quality improved with the bank's gross non-performing assets (GNPA) declined 10.30% in the second quarter of the current fiscal to ₹50,270 crore, compared to ₹56,042 crore in the preceding April-June quarter. The gross non-performing assets as a percentage of gross advances falling 151 bps sequentially to 12% and net NPA declining 56 bps QoQ to 2.79% in the quarter ended September 2021.

Slippages dropped significantly to ₹1,307 crore as of September 2021, compared to ₹3,942 crore in June 2021 quarter. The net NPA declined 14.87% in the September quarter to ₹12,424 crore, compared to ₹10.576 crore in the preceding June quarter. The bank's provision coverage ratio (PCR) stood at 87.81% in the September quarter, compared to 86.17% in the June quarter.

DABUR NET PROFIT UP 5%

Homegrown FMCG major Dabur India Ltd on Tuesday reported a 4.64% rise in consolidated net profit at ₹505.31 crore for the September quarter. The company had posted a consolidated net profit of ₹482.86 crore in the July-September quarter a year ago, Dabur India said in a BSE filing. Revenue from operations for the reported quarter was up 11.98% to ₹2,817.58 crore.

JSPL NET PROFIT TRIPLES

Domestic steel maker JSPL on Tuesday reported a nearly three-fold rise in consolidated net profit to ₹2,584 crore during the September quarter. Its net profit was ₹897 crore in the year-ago period, Jindal Steel and Power Limited (JSPL) said in a regulatory filing. The company's total income during the July-September quarter rose to ₹13,615 crore from Rs 8,295 crore a year ago.

HPCL NET FALLS 22%TO ₹1,923 CR

Hindustan Petroleum Corporation Ltd (HPCL) on Tuesday reported a 22% drop in its September quarter net profit due to shutdowns in its refineries and lower inventory gains. The company reported standalone net profit of ₹1,923.51 crore in July-September compared with ₹2,477.45 crore net earning a year back, according to a company's filing to stock exchanges.

Union Bank of India's consolidated net profit jumps 183% to ₹1,510 cr

Healthy loan growth

The bank is witnessing healthy loan growth on the retail and agriculture side but the corporate uptick is sluggish, Rajkiran Rai G. MD & CEO of Union Bank of India, said.

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

UNION Bank of India on Tuesday reported a 183% jump in its consolidated net profit to ₹1,510 crore for the September quarter, driven by recovery from the DHFL account that was written off earlier. The net profit was ₹533.87 crore in the same quarter last year.

The bank's core net interest income grew 8.52% to ₹6,829 crore on a loan growth of about 3% and an expansion in net interest margin to 2.95% as against 2.78% in the year-ago period. The non-interest income during July-September 2021 grew 65.32% to ₹3,978 crore, mainly on the back of a ₹1,764-crore recovery in written-off accounts.

The bank is witnessing healthy loan growth on the retail and agriculture side but the corporate uptick is sluggish, Rajkiran Rai G. MD & CEO of Union Bank of India said adding that it is targeting to end FY22 with a loan growth of up to 8%. Fresh slippages stood at ₹6,745 crore, of which around ₹2,600 crore came from entities linked to Srei Group, said Rai adding it has taken a 65% provision on the exposure to the troubled NBFC.

Airtel back in black with net profit at ₹1,134 crore; revenue up at ₹28,326 cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

BEATING street estimates, leading telecom service provider Bharti Airtel on Tuesday reported net profit of ₹1,134 crore for the quarter ending September 30, 2021 as against ₹763 crore loss reported in the same quarter last year.

Sequentially, the company's profit grew by whopping 300% when compared with ₹283 crore in June quarter of current financial year.

Airtel's bottom line in Q2FY22 was boosted by a one-time gain of ₹722 crore incurred from transfer of spectrum to Reliance Jio Infocomm during the quarter

The telecom operator reported a 5.4% sequential growth in consolidated revenue from operations to ₹28,326 crore for the reported quarter. Year-on-Year, its revenue grew by 13%.

Airtel informed that Indian mobile services business reported a strong 6.2% quarter-on-quarter growth in revenues to ₹15,191 crore. At the same time, its Africa mobile business generated growth of 5.1% in the quarter for the company.

What was interesting, Airtel's average revenue per user (ARPU) improved to ₹153 in second quarter as against ₹143 in the previous year period and was better than competitor Reliance Jio, whose ARPU stood at ₹143.6 per subscriber per month in Q2FY, up 3.7% YoY.

"We continue to maintain high degree of financial flexibility. As a result, we have now achieved nil bank debt for our India businesses. During the quarter gone by, we sustained our operational excellence with a healthy 5.5% sequential growth in consolidated revenues and expansion of EBITDA margin to 49.5%," Gopal Vittal, Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer, India & South Asia, said.

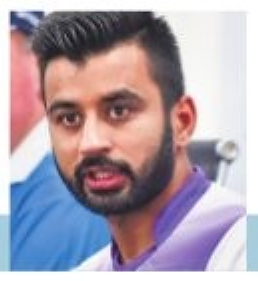
"LEADING GOLD PRODUCER IN INDIA"

Manpreet added to Khel Ratna winners' list



Olympic bronze-winning Indian men's hockey team captain Manpreet Singh was on Tuesday added to the list of Khel Ratna awardees, taking the total number of this year's winners to an unparalleled 12, with the ceremony scheduled for November 13 at the Rashtrapati Bhavan. Manpreet was originally recommended for the Arjuna award.

RECOVERY NEED OF HOUR

BCCI's crunched calendar has left players with no time to recuperate

Now or never for India

Staring at early exit after two consecutive losses, India face Afghanistan in a must-win match in Abu Dhabi on Wednesday. A look at the contest...

THIRD TIME LUCKY

On the two previous occasions, the coin didn't flip in his favour but this time Virat Kohli desperately needs luck to be by his side. Out of 9 matches played at the venue in this tournament before Pakistan-Namibia contest, 7 have been won by teams batting second. With dew playing a huge role in the evening matches, Kohli & Co may opt to chase against a spirited Afghanistan outfit.

SELECTION CONUNDRUM

The Men in Blue made two changes in their previous outing bringing in Ishan Kishan and Shardul Thakur. However, with mystery spinner Varun Chakravarthy being wicketless so far, India may be tempted to finally give a chance to their senior most tweaker R Ashwin. The offie with his bagful of tricks can help the team deal with flamboyant Afghanistan batters.

EYE ON NRR

Just a win will not be enough for India as they have to win big to keep their semifinal hopes alive. A huge victory will help them to bring down Afghanistan's net run rate. Anyway, their fate is not in their own hands because even if they win, they have to hope that Afghanistan beat New Zealand and the three teams finish with six points as in that case qualification will depend on NRR.

VENKATA KRISHNA B @ Chennai

This India team knows how to rebound. They have a history of turning things around, and quickly too. Even as India face Afghanistan (on Wednesday), Scotland, and Namibia with their semifinal qualification hopes hanging by a thread, the turnaround should not restricted to the desert alone. It should certainly happen back home, in the corridors of power.

Even if India dramatically get through to the semifinals, it will not conceal the cracks that exist in their T20 cricket. The affliction is not restricted to the team composition or availability of resources. They are critical, but it has to do with the tight schedule each of the top cricketers are subjected to in a calendar year too. With bio-bubble factor sneaking in because of Covid this time, the challenges are manifold, both mentally and physically.

One such significant factor that seems to troubled the team is 'fatigue' caused by the back-to-back series that have been slotted in the calendar. In the two matches so far at the T20 World Cup, despite both being played a week apart, India players have looked jaded. It is understood that several players are struggling with recovery. The postponed IPL only made it worse. It was played during peak UAE summer. With little time left for the World Cup, the team struggled to recover.

Too tight a schedule

However, an early exit from the World Cup would mean India will get an eight-day rest before they play their first of three T20Is against New Zealand on November 17. The three-match series is so tightly slotted — five days for three matches — that players would struggle to get enough time to recover. Even the two Tests against the Kiwis will get over in 13 days with the first Test in South Africa starting just nine days later. And once they finish the tour of Rainbow nation on January 26, they will face West Indies in a limited-overs series between February 6-20. Then Sri Lanka will come calling for a full-fledged series beginning on February 25 and ending on March 18.

The IPL 2022, which has 10 teams and 74 matches now, will commence shortly after. Head spinning? No hang on. Soon after the IPL, India will host South Africa in June for five T20Is, before leaving to England in July to play limited-overs series and the postponed Test match. Enough? Not yet. As per the Future Tours Programme, they will tour the Caribbean for another limited-overs series in August. Then there is the Asia Cup, which will be in a T20 format, as a precursor for the next T20 World Cup scheduled in Australia in October-November.

Not as recommended

There is not even a 10-day gap between in any of these series. As per the Lodha panel recommendations that brought around several changes to the BCCI's style of functioning, one aspect stood out for the cricketers. A 15-day gap was deemed mandatory before each series as it tried to address players' burnout and health. The BCCI's office-bearers have shown no inclination to implement those recommendations because they stand to lose the power. Since the Supreme Court has not looked into the BCCI case, the board has not been penalised or pulled-up.

This event should be a big concern for the BCCI and could lead to some introspections.

BOWLERS HELP SA THRASH BANGLADESH

T20
ICC MEN'S T20 WORLD CUP 2021

ABU DHABI: Pacers Kagiso Rabada and Anrich Nortje ran through the Bangladesh batting-line up to fashion South Africa's comfortable six-wicket win, which took the Proteas closer to the T20 World Cup semifinals, here. South Africa skittled out a struggling Bangladesh for 84 in 18.2 overs and then knocked off their target in 13.3 overs to consolidate their second position in Group 1. With three wins from four matches, South Africa now have a match left against in-form table toppers and unbeaten England on November 6. Already down and out, Bangladeshi batters were at sea against a disciplined South African attack, which was not only consistent with its teasing line and length but also got the ball to jump off good length. Rabada's (3/20) first spell in which he scalped three batters, including two in two balls, was instrumental in the slide of Bangladesh.

Brief scores: Bangladesh 84 in 18.2 ovs (Nortje 3/8, Rabada 3/20, Shamsi 2/21) lost to South Africa 86/4 in 13.3 ovs (Bavuma 31 n.o, Taskin 2/18).

BABAR, RIZWAN POWER PAKISTAN TO VICTORY

ABU DHABI: Babar Azam and Mohammad Rizwan produced yet another century-plus opening stand as Pakistan beat Namibia by 45 runs during their Super 12 clash of the T20 World Cup on Tuesday. Captain Babar led from the front with a classy 49-ball 70 as he took the early initiative, even as Rizwan struggled to get going in the beginning. But the Pakistani wicketkeeper-batter, who saw an LBW decision overturned while he was on two, turned it around in style to smash an unbeaten 79 from 59 balls. His knock helped Pakistan post 189/2 in 20 overs. Babar and Rizwan also became the first pair to aggregate 1000 T20I runs in a calendar year. In reply, Namibia lost their first wicket in the second over and could never get going after that. They finished at 144/5 in 20 overs.

Brief scores: Pakistan 189/2 in 20 ovs (Rizwan 79 n.o, Azam 70) bt Namibia 144/5 (Wiese 43 n.o).

Akash shows mettle at Worlds

ANMOL GURUNG @Chennai

TAKING part in his maiden World Championships, Akash Kumar (54kg) joined an esteemed club on Tuesday. With his attacking style of boxing, the youngster got the better of a more-acclaimed rival to enter semifinals in Belgrade, thereby assuring himself a medal. Vijender Singh was the first male pugilist from India to return with a medal from the marquee event in 2009. Five followed suit. Akash, thereby, became the seventh to achieve the special feat.

When the referee raised his arm signalling the win, Akash's celebration was palpable. With both his arms pointing towards the sky, he roared with delight. It was an emotional moment for him as this success had come after a tragic incident in his life recently. "I'm feeling proud after confirming the medal but I'm focussed on the remaining bouts," Akash said, after beating Rio Olympic silver medallist Yoel Finol of Venezuela 5-0.

"It has been a great experience, learning day-by-day. I was up against an Olympic medallist (on Tuesday) and I feel this has added to my experience. I want to dedicate this medal to my mother and father, my coaches and my fellow citizens from the country," he added.

Akash, who hails from Paluwas Village in Bhiwani (Haryana), had lost his mother just before the nationals in September. His family had kept the news away from him so that he could focus on boxing. Akash, who picked up the sport in 2008, had gone on to bag the gold during the Bellary meet, something that his mother had dreamt of. If not for that success, Akash would not have been part of this team. National chief coach Narendra Rana is impressed in the manner Akash, who turns 21 on November 11, has handled his mother's loss.

"His journey has been tough but he has shown that he is tough as well. I'm impressed in the manner he has coped after his mother's loss. After that, he told me that he has nothing to lose anymore and that he'll play with a free mind," the coach told this daily. It was only after reaching home, he learnt about the heart-breaking development. His uncle, Bhawar Singh, who has been a big support in Akash's journey, recollected those difficult hours when the boxer, after winning the national title, finally learnt about his mother's passing.

Foreign boxing coach Nieva expected to stay

INRDANEEL DAS @ Chennai

RETENTION of a foreign coach, hosting more international and domestic competitions, ensuring more players qualify for Olympics were some of the discussions that transpired between the Boxing Federation of India (BFI) and the Sports Authority of India (SAI) on Tuesday. The BFI was represented by its president Ajay Singh at the Annual Calendar for Training and Competition.

It is understood that high performance director for the men's team, Santiago Nieva, is expected to continue. According to insiders, his name figured in the ACTC and is expected to continue. Nieva is currently with the men's team in the ongoing Belgrade World Championships. There was an overhaul in the men's coaching staff with Narendra Rana taking over as the national coach chief and former chief coach, CA Kuttappa, turning into a coordinator of coaches.

Interestingly, the BFI is yet to decide on the women's chief national coach though Bhaskar Bhatt's name has been submitted. As reported by this newspaper, Bhatt is in the mix and is being considered for the key post for the women's team but the decision is yet to be taken. It is understood that the BFI is trying to finalise the list sooner than later. Since most of the boxers are from the Railways, there is pressure on the BFI to name quite a few coaches from the board.

Sasikiran beat the Russian player in 53 moves to join Alireza Firouzja, Alexei Shirov, Evgeniy Najer and Maxime Vachier-Lagrave as co-leader.

Liverpool face Atletico battle again in CL

MADRID: Liverpool play Atletico again in the Champions League on Wednesday in a game that this time carries more significance for the Spaniards than the Reds. Jurgen Klopp's team are already five points clear at the top of a group that looked awkward when the draw came out in August. Atletico are in a scrap, level on four points with Porto.

SHRI KEDARNATH DHAM

Now brightens up with a new divine aura

DEDICATION OF THE SACRED SAMADHI OF ADI GURU SHRI SHANKARACHARYA TO THE DEVOTEES

by Prime Minister Narendra Modi
on 5th November, 2021

> Adi Shankaracharya traversed the length and breadth of the country, anointing the sacred soil of Mother India on his forehead and ultimately rested at the feet of Lord Kedarnath. His thoughts have been inspiring millions over the years. His sacred Samadhi Sthal was destroyed in 2013 natural disaster. While rebuilding his Samadhi it has been our sincere resolve that it is imbued with divinity and glory and becomes an indivisible part of Lord Kedarnath so that pilgrims can experience the great tradition of worship and be blessed by the unparalleled spiritual energy of this sacred space.

PRIME MINISTER NARENDRA MODI

Thank You, Modi Ji

> For the first time in modern history, we are witnessing unprecedented steps towards the glorious redevelopment and progress of Kedarnath Dham under dynamic leadership of our Hon'ble Prime Minister Narendra Modi. His keen personal interest and commitment have not only resulted in the stunning reconstruction of the Shankaracharya Samadhi, but have also directly contributed to the overall transformation of Kedarnath Dham

DAY'S DIARY

In the space race

On November 3, 1957, the Soviet Union took the Space Race to another level when it launched Sputnik 2

A PRELUDE

The 1,000-pound payload carried a living organism into Earth orbit — a dog named Laika. This was a prelude to the subsequent human missions. Laika was said to have died within two hours of the launch

REENTERING

Sputnik 2 continued to orbit the Earth for five months, then burned up when it reentered the atmosphere in April 1958 over the Caribbean Sea

WHY LAIKA?

A Moscow dog was chosen because the scientists believed that the dogs in Moscow had already learned to endure extreme cold and hunger

DEEPAVALI DIARIES

Jenukallu Gudda in Sakleshpur

Tourist spots, including Sakleshpur, Wayanad, Sri Lanka and Dubai, are brimming with Bengalureans, who are heading out this holiday season

SANATH PRASAD

After staying put for almost one and a half years of the pandemic, Bengalureans are packing their bags, if they haven't already done so, to head to popular tourist spots.

While some choose to celebrate the festival with lights, sweets and firecrackers in namma ooru, a fair number is celebrating the festive season by spending time at beaches, hills and caves. From Wayanad to Sri Lanka and Dubai, travel enthusiasts in the city have chalked out their itineraries.

Trip advisors and travel vloggers find a sharp surge in travel after a damp 2020 when tourism took a hit owing to the pandemic. Travel vlogger Nivedith Gajapathy, who will be spending his Deepavali in Sri Lanka, believes that the island country is one of the most travel-friendly to Indians these days. "I am exploring Jaffna this time and also the traditional travel circuit, covering Kandy, Nuwara Eliya among other places. It works out well for a family trip," says Gajapathy.

According to Vinutha Kiran, proprietor of Travel Lounge Inc, a city-based travel company, there has been a 40 per cent increase in Bengalureans heading out of the city this Deepavali compared to 2020. "Enquiries and booking to places like Gokarna, Chikmagalur, Sakleshpur, Dandeli, Goa, Puducherry, Sri Lanka and Dubai have been constant in the last few weeks. This is mainly due to the travel restrictions that are now relaxed, especially in Sri Lanka, which is the preferred destination," says Kiran who is organising a six-day trip to Dubai later this month. "Bengalureans are heading to Gulf countries, especially Dubai and Sharjah, owing to the cricket World Cup," adds Kiran.

For travellers planning last-minute trips this weekend, here is a word of caution. According to travel organisers, most of the regular tourists places like Chikmagalur, Kodagu, Goa are packed and they suggest visiting off-beat places like Honnavar, Vagamon, Varkala, Mannavanur etc. Adventure Buddy, a city-based trip organiser, has two travel packages this Deepavali — a two-night trip to Sakleshpur and a three-night visit to Gokarna. Akshay TR, co-founder of the company, says, "We have received over nine bookings for Gokarna and 21 bookings for Sakleshpur. The Gokarna trip, costing ₹ 6,250 (food,stay and entry fee inclusive) per head, will include a Gokarna beach trek, Yana caves trek, visit to Mirjan fort and Nirvana cliff among others. While Sakleshpur costs ₹3,850, it will include a visit to hill view points, nature camping sites."

Resorts which were shut during the second wave of lockdown are cashing in on the festive rush and offering tempting deals. For instance, Tapash Kumar Sahu, a city-based IT professional, booked a private resort in Wayanad, Kerala, during the lockdown and is planning to visit the place this weekend. "My wife and I are staying for two nights, paying ₹15,000. It otherwise costs ₹15,000 per night. We are visiting Wayanad to relax and we will explore the local Kerala cuisine and celebrate Deepavali amidst greenery," says Sahu.

'PANDEMIC TAUGHT ME A LOT'

Bollywood actor Prachi Desai, who was in the city recently, talks to CE about how Covid-19 has changed her lifestyle, her current projects and what she hopes for in the future

ANILA KURIAN

You will remember Prachi Desai from Rock On!! — her debut Bollywood film — in which she shared screen space with singer-actor Farhan Akhtar. Much has changed since, with Desai having worked on a wide spectrum of projects, including Life Partner, Once Upon A Time In Mumbaai, Bol Bachchan and more. Making her mark in the OTT world last year was her performance in Silence... Can You Hear It?

In Bengaluru recently for the launch of lightweight D2C fine jewellery brand Melorra's experience centre at Phoenix Marketcity, she tells us that she's thrilled to be travelling again. While the pandemic has halted everyone's work, Desai kept herself busy... even trying different types of coffee. "There's so much that the pandemic has taught me most importantly to channel my minds, time and energy towards the personal and greater good. Having said that, I spent my time ticking the box on trying different varieties of coffee, doing household chores and binge-watching all my favourite shows. This led to many sleepless nights," says the 33-year-old.

She points out that her personal style has also changed since last year. While the word 'comfortable' seems to have overtaken all other adjectives in the context of style over the past one year, Desai has been living in and out of shorts, pyjamas and kaftans for months. "I now value the essence of dressing up for myself, however, big or small the occasion," she says, adding that her interest in modern jewellery and accessories has grown.

On the work front, Desai is currently doing the film Forensic directed by Vishal Furia. "It's a thriller with a barrage of human emotions and equations at play. I have an incredibly interesting role, that of a child psychiatrist. The subject of child psychology has always intrigued me," she says. If that wasn't interesting enough, it was the film's location that sealed the deal with her. "Post the second lockdown, this film directly took me to the lap of nature in the beautiful misty hills and mountains of Mussoorie — just the experience I was yearning for," she adds.

With Deepavali here, she's hoping for an upward swing in the next year. "Deepavali has always been exciting for me. Each year, I find myself in a different location, sometimes even different time zones pertaining to the work schedule. Having said that, I have some great memories of spending it with my family and our film crews in the past. Decorative lights attract me the most and don't even get me started on all the irresistible delicious food and sweets!", she says.

Ask her about Bengaluru and she says, "It is surely one of my favourite cities. I love the spirit of the city — there is the daily urban hustle we are all absorbed in, yet there is a sense of calm I find. On that note, let me not give away my favourite spots in the city."

FIT BIT

USTRASANA

(CAMEL POSE)

In Sanskrit, ustra means 'camel' and asana means 'pose' or 'posture'. It is a backbend that boosts shoulder flexibility, increases core strength and stretches the entire front of the body. On a spiritual and emotional level, practising this asana is regarded as an effective way to relax the mind and find calmness and balance. It also opens the Anahata (heart) chakra as the chest spreads wide and bears the heart outward. This can be performed by focusing inward while taking deep and controlled breaths.

STEPS

- First, sit on the floor stretching your leg, keeping your spine erect, and palms on the ground right next to the buttocks.
- You can now bend your leg by the knees and sit on your heels, placing the buttocks between the heels, the right big toe overlapping the left.
- Now, kneel on the floor keeping your knees in line with the shoulders and sole of the feet facing the ceiling.
- After that, keep your hand on your thighs.
- Inhale and arch your back, place your palms on the heels of the feet.
- You can now keep your arms straight.
- Don't strain your neck, keep it neutral. Let your neck be free.
- Now, stay in this final position for a couple of breaths or as long as you can.
- Then breathe out and slowly come back to the normal position, withdrawing your hands from the feet.
- Now you can relax and take deep breaths.

BENEFITS

- This asana stretches the anterior muscles of the body.
- It improves flexibility of spine and strengthens it.
- This pose helps improve digestion.
- It gives relaxation to the lower back.
- It is useful as an initial practice for back bending.
- It is more beneficial for indigestion.
- This asana also helps for lower back aches.
- It is best for cervical spondylitis.
- Regular practice helps to reduce abdomen fat.
- It is useful for those with thyroid and parathyroid.
- It helps during menstrual problems.

LIMITATIONS

- People suffering from severe back and neck injury, high or low blood pressure, migraine or other severe headache should perform this asana under the guidance of a yoga therapist or expert. Else better avoid the practice.

A SHARADHAA

ABHILASH N, a theatre artist under the Mysore Mime team, who made his film debut with Krishna's Love Mocktail, gets his first big break as a hero with Om Prakash Rao's upcoming romantic drama. The director, known for films like Lockup Death, AK 47, Huccha, and Kalasipalya, is now launching Abhilash with this film. The makers have already shot extensive portions of the film, and are currently in the last leg of the shoot.

Abhilash was supposed to make his debut as the lead with debutant director Chandan's Love Babu. The film, which was launched with a muhurath, but the shooting was eventually postponed. Now, Om Prakash Rao's film will turn out to be his official debut as a hero.

"Having worked in supporting roles in over six films, I consider myself lucky to play the lead actor in an Om Prakash Rao film. I consider it a privilege and encouraging to work with him, who has directed many leading stars and has held the megaphone for 48 films," says Abhilash, adding, "More than it being by debut as a hero, this project is more of a learning process for me."

Talking about his experience of working with Om Prakash, he says, "He is energetic, and knows what to extract from the actors. He is a magician and a mastermind. His years of experience in cinema gets reflected on the sets. For any upcoming actor, a film with Om Prakash's will take them places."

Abhilash says that the project had a modest beginning but has shaped up well in time. "The entire film is shot in Mysuru and we will wrap the shooting in the upcoming schedule, which includes song sequences - for which we will be travelling to Madikeri and surrounding areas."

The yet-to-be-titled project also stars Aishwarya Rao, Risha Gowda, Rangayana Raghu, Achyuth Rao, and Sudha Belawadi.

OMBATTHANE DIKKU CLEARS CENSOR WITH U/A CERTIFICATE

CE FEATURES

RANGANAYAKI director Dayal Padmanabhan is getting ready to release his next, Ombatthane Dikku. An action-thriller, starring Yogi and Aditi Prabhudeva, has a voiceover by Challenging Star Darshan.

Darshan also release the trailer of the film on Tuesday and wished the team in a video clip. Tamil actor Arya also launched the trailer online.

With two parallel stories, Ombatthane Dikku, produced by K R Studio and G Cinemas, also stars Sai Kumar in a pivotal role. The dialogues are penned by Venkat Dev, Abhishek, and the director, while the film has music by Manikanth Kadri. B Rakesh has handled the camerawork.

The film has cleared the censor with a U/A, and Dayal is planning to release the film in December.

Ombatthane Dikku also stars Ramesh Bhat, Prashanth Siddi, and Sampath Kumar. Yogi was last seen in Lanke, and Ombatthane Dikku will be the actor's second release in 2021.

Fred Hechinger to star opposite Nicholas Cage in Western film Butcher's Crossing

CE FEATURES

Actor Fred Hechinger will star opposite Nicholas Cage in the upcoming Western film Butcher's Crossing.

An adaptation of John Williams' 1960 novel, the film is set to be directed by Gabe Polsky, who also wrote the film along with Liam Satre-Meloy.

Hechinger will play the role of Will Andrews. Will, a naive Harvard student, heads to the West in 1874 to fulfil his dream of seeing the country and living off the land. He also agrees to fund a dangerous expedition to Colorado, which is led by an experienced hunter Miller (Cage), who is obsessed with a near-mythological buffalo herd he once glimpsed in the Rockies.

As time passes, Miller's resolve to slaughter the buffalos in the enormous herd puts Will and the rest of the hunting party at risk of losing their sanity and their lives.

Butcher's Crossing is produced by Polsky and Phiphen Pictures' Molly Conners, alongside Will Clarke and Andy Mayson for Altitude Film Entertainment and Cage's Saturn Films

Hechinger broke out after his role as Quinn in HBO's dark comedy series The White Lotus. He was recently seen in Netflix's Fear Street trilogy, Amazon's The Underground Railroad series, Netflix's The Woman in the Window, Tom Hanks-starrer Western News of the World, and more.

Chris Pratt to voice Garfield in new animated film

CE FEATURES

Hollywood star Chris Pratt is set to voice the famous feline Garfield in a new animated feature film.

Pratt had recently voiced Disney and Pixar's animated adventure Onward and the Warner Bros. toy-based Lego Movie franchise.

The film based on Garfield will be written by David Reynolds and directed by Mark Dindal. Though plot details are not yet known, it draws inspiration from the long-running comic strip created by cartoonist Jim Davis.

Garfield currently holds the record for being the most widely syndicated comic strip in the world.

The exploits of the cynical and lazy orange cat Garfield, his owner Jim Arbuckle and fellow pet Odie have appeared in more than 2,580 newspapers and journals since the comic strip first debuted in June 1978.

Alcon Entertainment is producing the yet-to-be-titled film and Sony Pictures will be releasing it in theatres globally, excluding China.

Chandigarh Kare Aashiqui motion poster out, trailer drops November 8

CE FEATURES

Ayushmann Khurrana on Tuesday shared the motion poster of Chandigarh Kare Aashiqui. The actor essays a cross-functional athlete in Abhishek Kapoor's film. The poster shows Ayushmann and Vaani Kapoor kissing, over a bouncy title track.

In his tweet, Ayushmann revealed the film's trailer will be out on November 8. "Yeh aashiqui kuch alag hain (this love is different) #ChandigarhKareAashiqui, trailer out on 8th November! Fall in love on 10th December in cinemas near you," he wrote.

Chandigarh Kare Aashiqui is co-produced by T-Series and Guy in the Sky Pictures production. It is Ayushmann's first theatrical release post the pandemic breakout. His last film, Gulabo Sitabo, premiered on Amazon Prime Video last year.

Speaking about Chandigarh Kare Aashiqui, the actor had previously shared, "Abhishek has a very distinct voice in cinema today and I'm glad that we finally got the opportunity to collaborate."

"I have never looked like this on-screen and I'm looking forward to seeing the reaction of audiences," he added.
